The Monarch of the Horse.
On Wednesday and Thursday, June 28th and 29th, the great original horse-tamer, J. S. Rarey, will make his first appearance in Pittsburgh since his return from Europe. He will appear at Lafayette Hall, with some trained horses of his own, and will also be glad to receive and train any vicious horses and mules, which can be left at Jackson's stable, Fourth street, at any time on or after the Monday preceding the exhibitions. Ladies are especially invited, as it was for their accommodation that the exhibition was arranged for a hall. Admission, $1 00 to parquette; 50 cents to gallery.

Union Convention in Ohio.

The ticket nominated at Columbus, on Wednesday, is given in another column. The Convention appears to have been harmonious and enthusiastic, and, says the Cincinnati Gazette, "entirely successful in nominating an excellent ticket." Major General J. D. Cox is the nominee for Governor. A sketch of his career will be interesting to our readers. He was born in the city of New York, Oct. 27, 1828. His parents were both natives of the United States, his mother being a lineal descendant of Elder William Brewster. His father was for many years a master builder in the city of New York, where the boyhood of Gen. Cox was passed, until he was 19 years old, when he emigrated to Ohio, entered Oberlin College, and graduated in 1851. Two years after he began the practice of law. He soon evinced more than ordinary ability in his profession, and was marked for his eloquence as a public speaker. At once he was pointed out as a rising man, and in 1859 he was elected by the Republican party as their Representative in the Senate of Ohio, in which position he was at the outbreak of the rebellion. General Cox had for some time held the nominal position of Major General of the militia of the State, and went to work at once in preparing Legislative enactments which should put Ohio in preparation for the impending shock of war. So efficient and energetic were his services that on the 23d of April, 1861, he was commissioned by Governor DENNISON as Brigadier General of Ohio Volunteers—all the officers under that call being commissioned by the Governors of the several States.

The Cincinnati Commercial uses the following language on the nominee of the Convention:

"There was not, for a moment, a doubt that Major General Cox was the man to be nominated for Governor, and congratulations were general that a man so admirably qualified for the position was available. A gentleman and scholar, soldier and statesman, he was the ideal candidate; or, perhaps, we had better put it in plain prose, and say he filled the bill."

German Feeling About the American War.

A correspondent of the Boston Traveller, now at Bonn, Germany, writes as follows: Mr. Conn, a Bonn banker, told me that in this little city of twenty thousand inhabitants, a million dollars' worth of United States notes are held. This shows well for German confidence in the issue of the war. Still I do not find that intelligent understanding of the great principles at stake, which formed alike our justification and our pride while the war went on.

On the contrary, the feeling seems to have been that the North was rich and strong, that it must gain in the end, and that the issue is safe to venture money on. The great aristocracy of learning which exists in Germany, is opposed to republican institutions, and has neither confidence in them nor sympathy with them. Nor did the aristocracy of the Universities immediately affect the public mind; it would be very adverse to the best welfare of the Prussian people, which does not need any more thorough imbruing than it now has, in the principles of submission to centralized government, whose strong arm is everywhere felt.

But happily Germany once went through the same effort to preserve herself from destruction that we have gone through, and she cannot wholly forget her history. When she defended herself from Napoleon, there was developed in her sons the same noble spirit which this war has called forth in our own. It would be worthy of them to compare the motives and hopes which actuated Davis with those which impelled Napoleon, and the spirit which filled Prussia in 1806 with that which filled America in 1860. But it is too long a theme to be touched here. I trust that the fate of Napoleon may be that of Davis.

Were he to come to Europe he would be feted and lionized within an inch of his life; were he to be hung, the spectacle would be revolting—it would seem to be the punishment which a man deserves equal to him in villainy, but not in the plausible manner which his very villainy enables him to assume. But let him be placed on the Tortugas, or let the fate of the man in Mr. Hale's fine story in the Atlantic Monthly, the "Man without a Country" be his; imprisonment where no word about the fortunes of the country which he proposed to rule or ruin should ever reach his eye or ear. This would be terrible, but it would be sublime.

The rebel General Carroll, who figures in the evidence brought out in the assassination conspirator's trial as one of the rebel agents in Canada, was one of the earliest applicants for special pardon under the President's Amnesty Proclamation. His case was referred to Governor Brownlow, of Tennessee, of which State Carroll claims to be a citizen, who responded in characteristic language, somewhat to the following effect: "This man would not be permitted by the people of this State to live here five minutes. He is too mean to say anything good about, and I don't care to say anything bad about him; therefore I'll say nothing."

A character of some note died in Castine, Maine, recently, in the person of John Jackson, a native of Africa, supposed to be a hundred years old. He was the son of a chief, and the insignia of his lineage was indelibly tattooed upon his body. He was kidnapped when a boy, served in slavery many years in Brazil, and at last, half a century ago, escaped to the United States. He has lived many years in Castine, and was considered an estimable citizen.

The day sessions of the Chicago Fair have ceased. Up to Wednesday evening, the receipts had been $270,000. The exciting contest at the Fair, in this city, between the friends of Sheridan and Sherman, for the magnificent gold-mounted pistol donated by the Brooklyn Arms Company, for "the best General," finally closed last night, the vote standing Sheridan 879, Sherman 447, with two or three hundred scattering. Sheridan kept ahead the first two weeks, Sherman's friends got the start last week, but yesterday the Sheridan men rallied in force, and took the prize by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. Fred. Seward was exceedingly anxious to accompany the remains of his mother to their last resting place, but his physician would not consent to his going. Mr. Clarence Seward was also prevented from participating in the mournful journey, by reason of his onerous duties at the State Department. The Secretary and those of his family who accompanied him, will be absent ten days.

The most important expression of President Lincoln's views on the Question of Negro Suffrage

Has just been given to the public in a letter which he wrote to Governor Hahn, of Louisiana.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON,
March 13, 1864.

Hon. Michael Hahn:—My Dear Sir:—I congratulate you on having fixed your name in history as the first free State Governor of Louisiana. Now you are about to have a convention which, among other things, will probably define the elective franchise. I barely suggest for your private consideration whether some of the colored people may not be let in; as for instance, the very intelligent, and especially those who have fought gallantly in our ranks. They would probably help in some trying time to come, to keep the jewel of liberty in the family of freedom. But this is only a suggestion—not to the public, but to you alone.

Truly, yours, A. LINCOLN.

Decisions Concerning Articles Taxable
In States lately in rebellion, will be issued by the Commissioner on Internal Revenue to-morrow. The taxes to which such manufactured articles, transported or about to be transported beyond the limits of the States lately in rebellion, will be held to be subject, will depend upon the particular circumstances. In all cases in which the manufactured articles were manufactured prior to the first day of September, 1862, they will not be liable to be taxed, and no duty will be assessed or collected on fermented liquors, or on coal, illuminating oil, distilled spirits, cotton or woolen fabrics which were brewed, manufactured or distilled prior to the said first day of September, 1862, whether the same were removed for consumption or sale or not, whenever satisfactory proof shall be furnished to the assessor of the district that the same were actually manufactured prior to that date. Articles manufactured or produced and sold, or removed for consumption or for delivery to others than agents, and the manufacturer or producers, between the 31st day of August, 1862, and the 3d day of March, 1863, will be subject to the tax imposed by the act of July 1st, 1862 on all such articles, and the tax to be levied on all articles, so transported or intended to be transported as aforesaid, will be that which was imposed by the law as it existed when they first become liable to tax, and the assessment will be made at the rates which are obtained at that time. When any article is claimed to be exempt or subject to a less rate of tax than is imposed by the law as it now exists, proof satisfactory to the Assessor of the district must be given of the rate of tax to which it is subject; otherwise it will be properly assessed under the law now in force. When goods have been removed from the district in which they were manufactured, whether under bond or otherwise, before the rate of tax to which they are liable has been determined, the Assessor of the district in which the tax is to be paid will determine the amount and certificates of the same to the Collector.

FIRE IN BOSTON--BILLIARD MATCH

Gen. Beauregard Reported Arrested.
THE FRENCH IN MEXICO.
MAXIMILIAN'S EMPIRE WANING.
SOUTHERN REBELS IN MEXICO
Feeling of the Citizens of Louisiana.

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, June 19.

It is reported that Gen. Beauregard was arrested and taken to Washington.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting was held last Saturday night welcoming home and endorsing Gov. Child's action regarding his removal of State and city officials. All branches of trade are active since the restrictions on products have been removed. A great destitution prevails in the interior of the Southern States where there are no communications by water or rail.

The latest information from Mexico says the empire is waning fast. Emperor Maximilian is a mere cipher in the hands of Marshal Bazini. The Empress displays more firmness and decision of character than her husband, and exerts great control over him; she is really Empress of Mexico. The foreign and Mexican troops are bordering on disorganization. The French are only reliable, and look to Bazini for orders. The Mexicans will rebel at the first opportunity.

Gov. Clark, of Mississippi, passed through Mobile on the 9th, on his way to Washington. Rebel General Albert Pike has arrived here. Judge Kellogg, appointed collector of this port has arrived.

General Heron, commanding at Shreveport has issued important orders to return freedmen to their former masters, until the growing crops are gathered, which will prevent destitution and suffering with both classes. Definite contracts for pay and support is required for the balance of the season. No private steamer yet for Texas. Transports are crowded with returning prisoners.

NEW ORLEANS, June 20.

Advices from North Mexico furnish the following facts: Camargo, after a brief resistance, was taken by General Lapry.

The notorious Captain Bedell, formerly of the Confederate service, will be tried as a spy.

The prominent, influential rebels, as they call themselves, and denominated by the Mexicans, American Mexican residents, who have sought that country for protection from Yankee rule, declare they will give physical support to the Empire that they are determined never to live under the flag from which they fled. The object of making their homes in Mexico is peace and stability. They will be to Mexico what they were to the Confederacy.

The whole tenor of the news places the American Mexican in the position of the wandering Jew, without home or resting place.

NEW ORLEANS, June 21.

The different Parish organizations of Louisiana express about the following sentiments: The strife has closed, the revolution has failed, and there must be no attempt or renewal of opposition to the United States; that all must accept the era in good faith and stand by the Government; reprobate guerrilla warfare and acts against individuals holding political opinions different from themselves must cease; that good feeling should be immediately restored; that they must stand by and support the constitution and laws of the United States and Louisiana, and in favor of punishing infractions thereof.

RIOT ON STATEN ISLAND

Difficulty getween Soldiers and Citizens

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 22.

In the matter of the riot on Staten Island last evening, it appears that the citizen were giving an entertainment to the 135th regiment, just returned from the war. Some of the members of a detachment of the 66th, guarding the cotton on the quarantine grounds, came to the place of entertainment, and were in a friendly spirit asked to take refreshments. Finally a boat arrived having on board Lt. Col. Nelson, in command of the detachment of the 66th, and he was informed of the state of affairs. He immediately leaped on shore and hastened to the gate, commanding them to desist and return to their quarters. His command was scarcely formed when he was shot by one of his own men, the ball passing through his breast. He will probably die. He is a son of Judge Nelson, of Williams bridge, Westchester county, and about twenty-eight years of age. Capt. Wilson, of the Naugatuck, was notified of the affair, and he ordered a squad of sailors with rifles down to the scene of action and arrested several of the rioters, also taking away the muskets of others. The disturbance was then quelled among the wounded men. Porter King was shot in the right leg. A discussion sprung up relative to the merits of the two regiments, in which the citizens participated, and a couple of the 66th got in a fight. Getting the worst of the fight, they ran to their quarters, got their muskets, loaded them, fixed bayonets and returned, using offensive language. They were set upon, their muskets taken away from them and were driven inside the gates of the Quarantine grounds. This engaged nearly the entire detachment. By this time a large crowd had gathered about the gates, and stones were thrown at the armed soldiers inside.

They responded by firing deliberately, and with much regularity, volley after volley into the crowd. The fight was kept up for near half an hour, with muskets on one side and stones on the other. Mortimer Duryea, of the 135th Regiment, was shot in the left leg, rendering amputation necessary. Some twenty or thirty altogether were wounded.

FROM FAYETTE SPRINGS.

A Visit to Scenes of Historical Interest—Fort Necessity, Braddock's Grave, &c.—Number of Visitors Increasing at the Springs.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

FAYETTE SPRINGS, June 12, 1865.

Having just returned from a very pleasant trout-fishing excursion amid the romantic scenery and cool streams of the mountain, and having enjoyed a late but excellent dinner, I feel tempted to give you a brief sketch of a visit we made yesterday to some of the historic localities in this vicinity. First we visited "Fort Necessity," Washington's first battle-field, two or three miles distant on the National road. The entrenchments here are still distinctly visible, though constructed on the 4th of July, 1753, one hundred and twelve years ago. The tract of land, called "Washington's Meadows," General Washington purchased and owned till the day of his death.

Returning, we passed General Braddock's grave, about a mile east of the springs, where he died of wounds received at "Braddock's field," in the vicinity of your city, in 1754. Here also, was pointed out the ruins of the house occupied by an old mountain hunter, Thomas Fossett, who always declared he shot General Braddock during the battle, for striking his brother with his sword for fighting, Indian fashion, behind a tree; and also, to save the army by giving Washington the command. This old soldier, six feet four inches high, died here at the age, it is said, of over a hundred years.

We next visited "Dunbar's camp," passing on the way, the grave of "Dumonville," a French officer who fell in a conflict with Washington in 1753, the year before Braddock's defeat, and was buried where he fell. We found "Dunbar's camp" on the apex of the mountain, from which, a most enchanting and extensive view is had of the beautiful valley below, now variegated with orchards, forests, green and yellow fields, just ripening for the harvest, extending in endless and delightful prospective. I will take another day to visit "Pine Knob," said to afford a view of surpassing beauty. "Delany's Cave," extending for miles under the mountains—the immense water falls on the Youghiogheny River, and on Meadow, and Cucumber Runs, &c., of which I may give you some account hereafter, as well as of some oil wells going down in this vicinity with encouraging prospects.

A number of visitors are already here from Columbus, Ohio, &c., and rooms are engaged by families from Washington, Cincinnati, and other Eastern and Western cities, giving promise of a pleasant season, with good fare and moderate charges. Yours, A VISITOR.

Crop Items.

The prospects of an abundant yield of grain and fruit were never better in the central counties of Illinois than at the present time. In Sangamon and the adjoining counties, wheat, corn and potatoes have never looked better. In Madison county there are fields of wheat already of sufficient maturity for reaping. The late rains have enlivened the whole country. Unusually large crops of corn have been planted in this section, and though somewhat backward in growth, it is of good quality and promises an abundant yield.

The late and frequent rains since the late corn-planting, give the farmers in Southern Ohio hopes of an average yield of this crop, while the wheat, which is being harvested, will be unusually large.

A week ago the wine growers reported the almost total destruction of the grape by the rot, but it is now generally conceded that the promise was never better for a fine yield.

SKETCH OF EDMUND RUFFIN.

An Original Fire-Eater and Secessionist—What he Did for Virginia—An Editor and Author.

"The Father of Eastern Virginia," Edmund Ruffin, Sr., whose suicide we announced in the COMMERCIAL yesterday morning, was the disinherited child of the Earl of Ruthven, in Wales. When he came to this country in the latter part of the last century, he settled in Virginia, and by thrift amassed great wealth in agricultural pursuits. Before the rebellion broke out he owned immense tracts of land, and his children were all well provided for. He was a Jackson Democrat in politics, and was a firm advocate of hard money. He was probably the original secessionist. In conjunction with John C. Calhoun he hatched a plan for the dissolution of the Union many years ago.

He desired to establish an agricultural empire in the South, with hard money for currency, and sea-carriage to be done in foreign bottoms only. Failing in these plans, in consequence of the death of Calhoun, he became a fire-eater, and took up the cudgel for such men as Wise, Pryor, Davis, Brooks, et al. He persistently refused public office at all times, and was ever known as an honorable and honest man—one who had espoused a bad cause with all the fire and power of his soul. He was very sanguine of the success of the South, and his zeal overpowering his better judgment, induced him to enlist as a private in the rebel army; and at Charleston, more than four years ago, to lead the great conspiracy and fire the "first gun of the rebellion."

Since that time, this grey-headed traitor has bent his best efforts to aid Davis in establishing his gigantic treason, but he has refused official position always. At one time Jefferson Davis offered him a post in his Cabinet, then a major generalship, then a foreign mission, but a prompt refusal met every proffer. It is not astonishing that a man so situated and suddenly crushed by hopes irretrievably blasted, should commit suicide, and we think there is no cause to doubt the truth of the report.

As an editor Edmund Ruffin excelled. For fifteen years he published the ablest agricultural monthly in America—the Farmer's Register—he published it at a heavy pecuniary loss, too. This work will be remembered in England, France, and Germany, as well as in this country. Mr. Ruffin also took an interest in the preservation of the early records of "Ancient Virginia." To this end he published Colonel Byrd's famous history of the "Dividing Line between Virginia and North Carolina," and his "Journey to the Land of Eden," and other works. As an author he was best known by his able and exhaustive "Treatise on Calcareous Manures," published in 1830. He also wrote part of a "History of Virginia," in conjunction with Mr. Campbell, of Richmond, and many pamphlets.

His discovery of shell-marl in Prince George county entitled him to the name of "Father of Eastern Virginia." This marl was the richest limed guano, and was found in immense quantities in every hollow. The land in that region had been worn out with tobacco, and nothing but lime and the most potent manures would render them arable to profit. This was the talisman which turned the ground to gold. Judge Thomas Ruffin, formerly member of Congress from North Carolina, was cousin-german to the suicide. This Ruffin was a delegate to the Peace Congress of 1861, and died in battle, near Alexandria, Va., in October, 1863.

Edmund Ruffin had a number of children. Edmund Ruffin, Jr., was the proprietor of Coggin's Point, on the James river. Julian Calx Ruffin was a farmer in Prince George county. Charles Travis Ruffin, the third son, graduated at the Virginia Military Institute, and was reported to have been killed in South Carolina. One daughter married Dr. Beckwith of Petersburg, and another married Mr. Sayre of Norfolk, Virginia.

The old man probably killed himself at his once magnificent mansion, Marlbourne, in Henrico county, Virginia, about fifteen miles east from Richmond. The plantation, as it was called, was near Mattox station.

THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY.

Its Present Condition—Destitution of the People—A Fine Chance for Northern Capital and Northern Industry.

An intelligent business man just returned from a trip through the entire Valley of the Shenandoah furnishes some interesting information relative to that region. He says that from Winchester to Harrisonburg fences are scarcely to be seen; but few houses have been destroyed, but near Harrisonburg many barns and mills have been burned. From Winchester to Strasburg scarcely any crops have been planted, and scarcely a chicken, horse, cow, or pig is to be seen. Toward Harrisonburg considerable wheat is out and corn has been planted. Beyond Harrisonburg, toward Staunton, west of the turnpike, near Mossy Creek, is the section which, by order of Gen. Sheridan, was laid waste for the alleged murder of a Union officer. The citizens there assert that he was not murdered but killed in an open fight, he having first wounded his adversary in the arm. Within a circle of five or six miles in diameter, with scarcely an exception, not a house, barn, mill or other building has been left standing. Many of the citizens were Mennonists, who are non-resistants, and many of them, early in the war, had left for the North. They are a quiet, hard-working, industrious people, never owning or hiring slaves, and are already returning to their desolated farms, and putting up small frame buildings to shelter themselves and families.

Extreme destitution prevails throughout the whole valley. Having been so often traversed by both armies, farms have been entirely stripped of their stock, and in many districts of all their fences. The able-bodied negroes have all left, those only remaining who are not able to do any work, and who are a burden on their former owners. In many cases the agents of the Government compel their former masters to keep and support them, although recognizing the fact that they are free, and while they are entirely useless for agricultural or domestic purposes. This is regarded as great injustice, as the citizens have scarcely enough to support themselves, and think that the rights of freedom should be reciprocal. They recognize the fact that slavery is extinct; think that they should have the right to employ such labor as should be most advantageous to them, and that as they cannot have the services of the negroes who could labor and raise the crops, the Government should assume the care or charge of those who are mere consumers.

This immense valley, hundreds of miles in length, is one of the finest agricultural and mineral regions in the world, and, with free men and free labor, no limits can be set to its future greatness. Its people are disposed to receive frankly northern men and northern capital. The soil is unsurpassed for agricultural purposes, the whole valley being the best limestone land, and generally well-wooded and watered. What is now needed is some capital to stock and improve the farms, to rebuild mills and manufactories, and to develope the immense mineral resources of the valley. The best lands may now be purchased on the most reasonable terms—say for less than half what they would command a year or two hence. Good farms, where the fences have been destroyed, may be bought for $25 per acre; farms with excellent buildings and fences for $40. For example, a farm containing 300 acres of good arable limestone land, and 200 acres of first rate white oak timber land, with a fine two-story brick mansion house, large barn, stabling and other outbuildings, with a fine stream of water running through the land, good springs in various parts of the property, and good fences, was offered for $40 per acre. On the farm was a splendid crop of wheat, corn and grass. It is within six miles of a railroad, and about 120 miles from Washington or Baltimore.

FROM RICHMOND.

Prominent Virginians Indicted for Horse Stealing—The Re-Arrest of Dick Turner—Outrages in Richmond.

From the Richmond Republic of Monday we gather the following items:

Judge Lee, of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia; his son, Captain Lee, a quartermaster in the Confederate army; Major Cooper, a member of the Virginia Convention of 1861; Captain Quinn, of the Virginia Senate; Judge Camden, Judge of the Circuit Court of Harrison before the war, have been indicted by the Grand Jury of Harrison county for horse stealing. This was done under the charge of Judge Harrison, present Judge of that circuit, who instructed the Grand Jury that any person in the United States who aided or sympathized with the Confederate cause was indictable for any act done by and in the name of the Confederate authorities. The persons named were indicted for the theft of horses carried off from Harrison county by Generals Imboden and William E. Jones during some of their raids into Northwestern Virginia.

Richard Turner, who escaped from the Libby Prison several weeks ago, was re-arrested at his residence in this city Saturday night last. During Confederate rule, he was employed at the Libby as warden, and, upon the occupation of the city by the United States authorities, he was arrested and confined in the prison, but subsequently escaped therefrom. He was arrested by a squad under the command of Lieut. Murray, of the 20th New York regiment of volunteers, and when taken had in his possession one revolver and two Derringer pistols: his beard had been cut close, and his hair and moustache dyed. He was sent to Castle Thunder.

The soldiers on duty in the city of Richmond are, many of them, acting in a very disorderly and outrageous manner. In order to improve the morals of the soldiers, General Turner has issued an order that hereafter no person shall sell intoxicating liquors, &c., without a special license from one of the four Provost Marshals of Richmond, and prohibits, under any circumstances, the selling or giving of intoxicating liquors, wines or ales, to enlisted men, on penalty of arrest and confiscation of stock, one-half the confiscated property to go to the informant.

A boy of thirteen years was sent to prison on Sunday, charged with stealing a mule. Saturday night a squad of soldiers attempted to arrest a deserter at a notorious house, and were set upon by the deserter and his friends and four of them badly beaten. Another squad in attempting to arrest a deserter, residing near the canal, were attacked by the man's wife, and two of them thrown into the canal. Two soldiers entered a negro's house, broke up his furniture and threatened to kill him, but the Provost Guard saved him.

Ohio State Union Convention.

Gen. Cox the Nominee for Governor.
THE RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

The Ohio State Union Convention met on Wednesday at Columbus, Gen. W. B. Woods, presiding. Gen. J. D. Cox, of Trumbull county, was unanimously nominated for Governor; for Lieutenant Governor, A. G. McBurney, of Warren county; for Supreme Judge, J. Brinkerhoff, of Richland county; for Supreme Judge, (Short Term,) Jno. Welch, of Athens county; for Treasurer of State, S. S. Warner, of Lorain county; for Attorney General, W. H. West, of Logan county; for School Commissioner, J. C. Norris, of Harrison county; for Clerk of the Supreme Court, Rodney Foos, of Clinton county; for Board of Public Works, Jas. Moore, of Coshocton county.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

The Union people of Ohio, grateful to Almighty God for the overthrow of the rebellion and the preservation of the national integrity; for the blessings of peace and for all the favors which He has vouchsafed to us as a people, do hereby resolve,

1st. That the name and fame of Abraham Lincoln stands out from the history of the epoch unrivaled and alone, and while we deplore his untimely and cruel death, and venerate his memory, it becomes us to imitate his wisdom, firmness and moderation in the treatment of vexed questions, and especially to imitate his example in waiting for the solution of difficulties to be furnished by the progress of time and the logic of events.

2. That President Andrew Johnson, by his unswerving devotion to the Union through years of severest trial, has now our highest confidence; that we cheerfully endorse the policy of his administration, looking to the restoration of peace and civil order in the so-called seceded States, and that, as Union men of Ohio, we will give him our hearty and undivided support.

3d. That the thanks of Ohio and of the nation are due to the heroic men of our army and navy, whose labors and sufferings have saved the republic. We honor our martyred dead, and joyfully welcome to their homes our returning veterans.

4th. That the thanks of this Convention are due, and are hereby tendered to the loyal men and women of Ohio at home, who have so nobly and liberally sustained and cheered our brave soldiers in the field, in their trying efforts to maintain the national authority in conflict with armed rebellion.

5th. That four years of sanguinary war, with its fearful sacrifice of life and treasure, forced upon us by the slaveholders' rebellion, has demonstrated to us and the world that slavery and its institutions are irreconcilably opposed to freedom and free institutions, and all the teachings of history; the dealings of Providence and our own better experience point unerringly to their overthrow and eradication, as our only safeguard against the recurrence of like evils in the future.

6th. That while we are anxious for an early reconstruction of fraternal relations with the insurgent States, we demand that such reconstruction shall be at such time and upon such terms as will give unquestioned assurance of the peace and security, not only of the loyal people of the rebel States, but also of the peace and prosperity of the Federal Union.

7th. That the thanks of the loyal people of Ohio, and of the Union, are due to the three War Governors of Ohio—Dennison, Tod and Brough—for the earnest, faithful and patriotic exercise of the executive authority of our State during their respective administrations; and that through their efforts, and the hearty cooperation of our loyal people, the citizens and soldiers, Ohio stands in the front rank on the roll of honor among her sister States, in the great struggle for national existence.

8th. That the experience of the last four years shows the absolute necessity, in all our political action, of keeping steadily in view the great principles of our Government, as set forth in the Declaration of Independence.

9th. That we will cordially support the ticket this day nominated, and promise our collective and individual efforts to secure its triumphant election.

The President on Negro Suffrage.

[Correspondence of the Boston Advertiser.]

It is no longer a secret that there was a gathering of Congressmen in Washington in the latter days of May, and that they came here to instruct the President in his duties respecting the South. These gentlemen—specially and specifically the "friends of humanity"—came here in response to the circular sent out by somebody who believes in the virtue of the famous doctrine so elegantly ennunciated some years ago by Agustus Schell—"one turn more of the screw will fetch 'em." Who this somebody was does not clearly appear, though there are indications that it was Mr. James H. Ashley, of Ohio, with whom were associated a member from Ohio, another from Illinois and a third from Pennsylvania. They meant, mainly, to force the President into extending the privilege of suffrage to the negroes of the South. He granted them, individually and collectively, such interviews as they asked; and they can at least comfort themselves with the pleasant reflection that if the President has failed in his duty on this question, it is no fault of theirs. That they were a trifle arrogant and dictatorial in manner and word will appear from Mr. Ashley's report:—"I told him we intended to crush every man and every party standing in the way of universal suffrage." Report says that the President responded, "Good day, gentlemen." The tenor of the speech in which he told the story of his visit would seem to indicate that Mr. Ashley is not wholly satisfied with the position of affairs.

Mr. Sumner is everywhere known to be in favor of extending the right of suffrage to the Southern negroes. He is by nature and inclination intended to act alone rather than with the men who believe in "pressures." I am sure he had no connection with this movement. I am also sure he took early occasion to give the President his views upon the great questions involved in the reconstruction of the South; and that he left the Presidential rooms firm in the belief that there was no essential difference of opinion on the main point between the President and himself. I am quite confident, also, that Mr. Sumner briefly gave that conclusion by letter and in person to many gentlemen; and that there grew up, thereupon, in some sections a vague but general expectation that the negroes would be allowed to vote in the re-organization of all the Southern States. The North Carolina proclamation of course showed one of two things—either that the President had broken faith with Mr. Sumner, or that Mr. Sumner had failed to comprehend his position. "But," said many persons here, "North Carolina is his native State, and has been stronger for the Union than any other Confederate State, and may be he thought he ought to give her better terms than the others; let's wait and see." The waiting brought the Mississippi proclamation; and now everybody appears to take it for granted that the President is opposed to negro suffrage in the South, however he may feel in respect to the abstract question.

The mistake so often made in respect to Mr. Lincoln is now made daily in respect to Mr. Johnson. "If slavery is not wrong then nothing is wrong," is a phrase of Mr. Lincoln's later days, yet the idea was in his mind and in his conversation from the beginning of his Presidency. Knowing this, men said, "why don't he in some way overthrow slavery?" Seeing he did not touch slavery, men said, "he is weak or cowardly or deceitful." They would not recognize that a man's conviction of what he could or might do could be at variance with his private judgement as to what it would be desirable to have done. Mr. Johnson may think the Southern negro ought, as a matter of simple justice, to have the right of suffrage; he may even believe that the public policy would be furthered by giving him such right; and yet he may be perfectly honest in his view of power and its limitations—entirely sincere in believing that the Presidential office gives him no authority for granting that right.

I have taken much pains to learn what the President's views upon the questions involved are. I am entirely satisfied that he would give all negroes who have been in the army, and the more intelligent ones of those who have not, the privilege of voting if he believed he had authority under the Constitution to do so. "What does the President say about negro suffrage?" I asked of the chairman of one of the numerous delegations of Southerners in the city. "Well, he don't say much; he asks us if it seems fair to make the negro fight and then refuse to let him vote; and he tells us that pretty much all you Northerners seem to be in favor of letting him vote, and he says though he hasn't let him vote in North Carolina, he may do so somewhere else." In respect to the idea in these last words, I may say that I know the President remarked to a high officer, about the time the North Carolina proclamation was issued, "We'll try this plan first, and if it don't work, why, then, we'll try something else." Mr Ashley himself is authority that the President "desires all men should vote, without distinction of color." Mr. Sumner was undoubtedly told that between himself and the President there is no difference of opinion on the question that justice and expediency alike would sanction the extension of the suffrage to negroes. Judge Yerger, of Mississippi, was told that no good reason, aside from the prejudices of the people, could be given for excluding them from the right of suffrage; and it was said to an Alabama gentleman that he would do well to use his influence in preparing the minds of his people for quiet acquiescence in general suffrage.

The President, however, is at present clearly of opinion that he has no power to say that the negroes shall vote. The States have never been out of the Union, though their "proper practical relations" to the Union have been, for the time being, superceded. He can do no more, he holds, than set them back where they were before they passed ordinances of secession. Yet, inasmuch as the people of the State have been in rebellion, he can, as the executive head of the government, say that, as punishment for crime, they shall not now vote. He can withhold the right of suffrage from certain classes heretofore exercising it; but he cannot extend it to other classes excluded by State constitutions. Briefly I understand this to be his position.

The Springfield Republican is responsible for the story of a novel rat trap accidentally discovered in that city. A gentlemen captured a large turtle, cut off its head and left it out of doors, while he carried the rest of the animal into the kitchen to be made into soup. There was presently an animated squealing in the yard, and an investigation into the cause of it disclosed the interesting fact that a rat that had come out to eat up the head had been seized and actually killed, and this decapitated head had hung on so tightly that it was necessary to use an axe to divide them. The Republican adds: "Nobody need malign dead heads after this."

WASHINGTON, June 22.

A Prominent Rebel Wants Pardon.
Mr. Walker, Jeff. Davis' first Secretary of War, is expected here in a few days with an application for pardon for himself. Walker is the individual who boasted, in a speech delivered at Montgomery in 1861, on the occasion of the inauguration of the Provisional President of the Confederacy, that in less than three months the flag of the rebellion would wave not only over the dome of the Capitol but over Faneuil Hall.

Flattering Condition of Freedmen.
General Howard to-day received a letter from General Fisk, Commissioner of Freedmen for the States of Arkansas and Missouri, stating that the affairs of the Freedmen, particularly in the latter State are at present in a very prosperous condition. Laborers are in great demand, and fair wages are offered. There are only 236 colored people in Missouri dependent upon the Government for support, while there are 1,452 whites who draw their daily sustenance from Uncle Sam.

It is understood that

Dr. P. J. Howitz
Will be appointed Chief of the Naval Bureau of Medicine and Surgeon, in place of the late Dr. Wheelan. Dr. Howitz, for a long time, was Dr. Wheelan's principal assistant.

General Ord
has applied for, and will probably receive, a command in the East, instead of being sent to Oregon, as was expected. He has cleared away, to the satisfaction of the President and Secretary of War, the published charges of maltreatment of the Richmond Freedmen, as he acted throughout under the orders of Gen. Halleck, and was not responsible for the evils which were matter of complaint.

The commands to be given to Generals Meade, Sherman and Halleck have been decided upon, but they have not yet received their formal assignments.

General Grant
Will go to Philadelphia in a few days on a visit.

Rear Admiral Dahlgren
Arrived here to-night and left for the north in the evening train.

President Johnson has designated Saturday evening as the time for a special interview with the South Carolina delegation relative to the affairs of that State.

A prominent gentleman, an advocate of Negro Suffrage.

Has written a letter to Gov. Swan, of Maryland, asking for his views on that subject. The reply has not yet been received. Gov. Swan had a protracted interview with the President to-day, in which this question formed the subject of discussion.

THE ELECTION IN VIRGINIA

NEW YORK, June 22.

The Army and Navy Gazette, publishes the following dispatch from Gen. Grant to Gen. Halleck, ordering the latter to disregard Sherman's truce; It should have accompanied Halleck's letters:

FORTRESS MONROE, April 22, 1865.

Maj. Gen. Halleck, Richmond, Va.:

The truce entered into by Sherman will be ended as soon as I can reach Raleigh. Move Sheridan with his cavalry toward Greensboro, N. C., as soon as possible. I think it will be well to send one corps of infantry also; the whole under Sheridan. The infantry need not go further than Danville unless they receive orders hereafter to do so. (Signed)

U. S. GRANT, Lieut. General.

A Havana letter describing the escape of Breckinridge and party says that they procured a small boat at St. Johns, hauled it across the country to Indian river and launched it in an inlet communicating with the ocean, and moved down the coast, subsisting on shell fish, turtles and eggs. A United States gunboat saw them and sent a boat to see who they were. Col. Wood and two others went out to meet the boat, and said that he was a wrecker and fisherman, and that the balance of the party were paroled rebel prisoners. They exhibited paroles and were allowed to go. Col. Wood invited the officer who examined his papers to go on shore and dine with them on shell-fish, but he declined. That evening they left the shore, having a few dozen of eggs and some clams. They reached Cardenas about thirty-six hours afterwards, having spoken vessels and procured supplies of fresh water. They suffered much from hunger during their journey, and only one person at a time could sleep in the boat.

The Tribune's Washington special says that among the vast number of applications for pardon filed at the White House, there is not a single instance where the applicant does not assert that he opposed the inauguration of the rebellion.

Several parties who were acting as postmasters when the war broke out, have reported the amounts of their indebtedness, and expressed a desire to liquidate the same. A few have forwarded money. The Postoffice Department is preparing to open bids for transporting mails over sundry of the old postal routes in the South. Schedules will be advertised as soon as completed.

Col. C. O. Loomis, of the 1st Michigan Artillery, has been promoted to a full Brigadier General, a just tribute to one of the heroes of Stone River.

A gentleman from Mississippi is in town on his way to New York, where he intends to astonish his creditors by paying off a large sum of money he owed at the breaking out of the rebellion. He paid into the rebel Treasury the amount of his Northern obligations, but does not consider that manner of paying a debt either honorable or honest.

The Commercial Advertiser says: The chief topic on 'Change this morning has been the departure South of Mr. Eastman, of Eastman & Co., produce dealers, Broad street, for parts unknown, leaving a deficiency amounting to half a million of dollars. A warehouseman named J. K. Howe is also missing, and is believed to be connected with Eastman. The latter disappeared last Saturday, saying he was going to Boston and would be back in a day or two. His antecedents were of the first quality. He was a church going man and largely identified with every praiseworthy undertaking.

Richmond papers of the 20th contain the following:—At the late election, the following was the result of the vote in Accomack and Northampton counties: For Congress—Wm. H. B. Curtis, Accomack county, 923; Northampton, 290. George C. Tyler, Accomack county, 86; Northampton, 6; Curtis' majority, 1,131. For the House of Delegates of Virginia, Thomas H. Killam and Dr. John W. Fields are elected—both conservatives. Wm. Curtis was a Union man in the Virginia Convention, a conservative man, and opposed to confiscation. Tyler is the present United States Collector for the district.

The citizens of Dwynney Hill, at a meeting, adopted resolutions prohibiting negroes from coming upon their plantations except on business, fixing their pay at five dollars a month, refusing to hire any unless recommended by their previous employer, and while recognizing Francis H. Pierpont as Governor and appreciating his generous sentiments, they deprecate the Constitution of the State of Virginia as now in force, and ask that the same course be adopted for Virginia that has been for North Carolina.

The Commercial's bulletin says: The 2d United States Colored Cavalry mutinied on board a steamer lying at the wharf in Portsmouth last Tuesday evening. They took possession of the vessel, refused to allow it to leave, and next morning went ashore armed, and ran riot through the town. White troops were summoned from various quarters. General Graham took command of them, and soon overpowered the blacks and drove them aboard the ship, where preparations had been made for them. They were disarmed and sent down the bay.

The Board of Metropolitan Fire Commissioners met this P. M. and received the report of the Law Committee, and informed the report from the Court of Appeals to the Supreme Court had arrived, and the order filed, so that the Commissioners are now legally in charge of the Fire Department. Applications were received from seventy-five to a hundred firemen to be enrolled as members of the new organization. Some of the Assistant Engineers reported to the Commissioners, and received instructions to continue on duty under the orders of the Chief.

The Post's Washington special says: A number of applications for pardon have been received to-day from military and civil officers of the late rebel Government.

The Southern railroad managers have arrived here to make arrangements for a continuous railroad line from New York to Richmond and Chattanooga.

The Herald's special from Brownsville the 15th, says that information has been received at the headquarters of Gen. Messah, at Matamoras, that an engagement lately took place between the Imperial and Liberal commands, in which the latter was totally defeated.

LATE WASHINGTON ITEMS.

ACTION OF OF GOV. PIERPONT.
Appointments of Collectors of Customs.

WASHINGTON, June 22.

In view of the action of Gov. Pierpont in calling the Legislature of Virginia together for the purpose of removing the disabilities of those who have been engaged in rebellion, and allowing them to vote and hold office, a large delegation of loyal men of the State to-day visited the President and laid various matters of importance before him.

During the interview, a letter was submitted to the President from General Wells, who rendered such efficient services in the arrest of the assassins of President Lincoln. General Wells, who is Provost Marshal General of the defenses south of the Potomac, says that very soon after the fall of Richmond, I became aware that many of the leading rebels, despairing of resisting by force of arms the power of the Government and the mighty logic of events which was soon to make Virginia free, had determined to attempt by policy what force could not do; and then it was that, soon after that event, these persons, in very considerable numbers, and in such concert as to indicate the common purpose, appeared and took the oath of allegiance. The election for members of the Legislature was soon to be held and among those who announced themselves as candidates were some who had refused to take the oath, and preferred to lose their property and be exiled from their homes and from their families rather than acknowledge the supremacy of the Government of the United States. Two years of duty at Alexandria, and such general acquaintance as it brought, taught me that the oath of allegiance was not conclusive evidence of a man's loyalty, but that it was merely worthless, unless accompanied by consistent conduct and loyal acts, and no surprise was felt when on counting the vote it was found that these gentlemen were elected by large majorities to represent the people in the State Government whose legal existence they had persistently denied, and for whose overthrow both of them had, within one year, plotted and conspired.

The Postmaster General has, after consultation with Lieutenant General Grant, concluded to send gentlemen of known competency to the South to examine the condition of the railroads in that section, with a view to the resumption of postal service.

Many persons have come here to procure special pardons, while others are represented by counsel. Throngs of them were at the Executive Mansion to-day for the purpose of obtaining interviews with the President.

Hon. Martin Conway was among them as the representative of Gen. Echols and twenty-five merchants of Richmond, who are worth each more than $200,000, which excludes them from the immediate benefit of the pardon proclamation. They represent that their present exclusion paralyses their energies, and prevents the application of their capital to business and the improvement of Richmond, which is now so desirable, owing to the late destruction by fire.

The following appointments have been made of Collectors of Customs for the State of North Carolina: Wm. C. Loften, Newbern; John J. Taylor, Elijah Mills, Plymouth; Jno. S. Brady, Camden; Wm. Cherry, Washington, and Dan'l L. Russell, Jr., Wilmington. Parker Quince has been appointed Surveyor for the last named place.

The restriction of twenty-five per cent. on all cotton west of the Mississippi has just been removed; thus all cotton is free with the exception of the Internal Revenue tax of two per cent. The Secretary of the Treasury has recommended to the President the appointment of H. H. Van Dyke, of New York, Assistant Treasurer of that city. James Smith has been commissioned as District Attorney for Northern Alabama, Wm. H. Gale and Chas. P. Holly as Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of Colorado, and Jacob Houghton as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico.

It has been officially decided that the Commissioners for Freedmen's affairs is bound to take control of only such portions of abandoned Southern lands as he may set apart for the use of refugees and freedmen, and not the entire of abandoned lands in that section.

MESSAGE OF GOV. PIERPONT.

Special to Western Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 22.

Governor Pierpont, in his message to the Virginia Legislature, says: The most important question which now demands immediate attention is that of the restoration of political rights to those who have heretofore enjoyed them. If the test of loyalty prescibed by the amended State Constitution is enforced in the election and qualification of officers, it would require an organization, which is impracticable in most counties.

It is folly, he says, to suppose the State to be governed under a republican form of government when nine-tenths of the people are disfranchised; but fortunately by the terms of the Constitution the General Assembly has control of this subject, restricting the clauses of the Constitution in time of war. Now that the conflict is passed, new facts developed by the past four years declare that we have taken the oath of allegiance to the United States without mental reservation and intend to be and remain loyal to the government of their fathers. It would not be the spirit of the noble Anglo Saxon race to strike a fallen brother, or to impose upon him humiliating terms, after fair surrender, therefore, if it were even practicable to organize counties under disqualifying clauses of the Constitution, should still earnestly recommend their repeal, we must not loose sight of the great fact that, while man is a social and religious being he is at the same time of a fighting, animal nature, and to encourage the milder propensities of his nature, we should not deal too harshly with others, lest we defeat the object of a wise legislation, and degrade where we would elevate and enoble all; a person who is disloyal to the Government which gave him protection, should not be allowed to vote or hold office under that Government, hence the suggestion of the oath of loyalty. I would recommend the amnesty oath prescribed by the President of the United States, or one of similar character to that, to be substituted for the one required by the Constitution, as it now stands.

He further says that the subject of negro suffrage is exciting great interest at present all over the country, but as neither you nor I have control over that subject, it will, of course, not be a subject of your deliberation. I would recommend the passage of an act to legalize the marriage of persons of color. He also recommends appropriations for lunatic asylums, and an institute for the deaf, dumb and blind, an increase of taxes to fifteen per cent. on each hundred dollars' worth of property, raising our legal rate of interest to 7 3-10 per cent, and the fixing of a day for electing members of the Legislature. It closes by invoking the blessings of God upon the State and country.

A resolution was passed in the House, that in the opinion of the General Assembly time has elapsed when it was safe and expedient to restore the rights of voters who are disfranchised by provisions of the third article of the Constitution. The Senate concurred in the resolution, and a special joint committee was appointed to bring in a bill for that purpose.

THE TRAGEDY AT WEST ROXBURY.—The Bussey Woods, at West Roxbury, have been visited by thousands of people since the discovery of the bodies of the victims of the foul murder of the 12th inst., and the tragedy continues to be the theme for general comment, evoking universal expressions of horror. The search of the apartments of Thomas Ainsley, arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the crime, revealed nothing of a suspicious character, and Ainsley still asserts his innocence, though he fails to give a satisfactory account of his whereabouts on the fatal Monday—his statements in respect to that day being contradictory, while he fully accounts for himself on every subsequent day. A dispatch from Holmes' Hole states that two men have been arrested there on suspicion of complicity in the murder.

THE TURF.

June Meeting at Abbey Trotting Park, St. Louis—The First Day's Races—Fastest Time Ever Made in Missouri.

The first of the trotting races on the Abbey Track, St. Louis, took place on Monday. The first race was for a purse and stake of $1,100, for which there were five entries, mile heats, 3 in 5 to harness. The second race was for a purse of $100, mile heats, to harness, in which there were four entries. In the first, Lady Walker was the favorite, and in the second, Nebraska Maid stood first choice. The judges decided that the first race should be a mile and repeat. The Nebraska Maid won the first heat in 2:45, and complaint having been entered that she made her mile inside of three minutes, the judges ruled her off the track; but her owners demurred, and insisted upon her trotting in the race. She was allowed to go under protest—leaving his right to trot to the decision of Mr. Wilkes, of the Spirit of the Times. The second heat was won by Nebraska Maid, in 2:44. The judges having obtained evidence that both Nebraska Maid and Chicago Rose had made their mile inside of 2:40, decided that they were both excluded, and that Tom Foster won the race. This was final. The following is a summary: Purse, $100. Mile heats to harness. Free for all horses that never trotted faster than three minutes. Closed with the following entries:

J. Woodford's s. m. Chicago Rose	2	3
D. Snedicor's br. g. Tom Foster	1	2
James Rutherford's b. h. Clifford	3	dis.
Wm. Patrick's b. m. Nebraska Maid	1	1

Time, 2:45—2:44.

The third heat was the great feature of the day, being best three in five, with purse and stakes amounting to $1,100. The following is a summary of this race:

Purse, $600, with inside stake of $100 each, p. p. Mile heats, 3 best in 5, to harness—for all trotters. Second horse to save his stake and entrance. Closed with the following entries:

James Rutherford, b. h. Pilot Temple	1	1	1

Porter Leonard, s. m. Lady Leonard	dr.
W. Patrick, b. m. Lady Walker	2	2	2
P. Warner, b. g. Jim Rowell	4	dis.

Time, 2:29—2:27—2:30.

There were two fine races announced for Tuesday. One for a purse of $350 with inside stakes of $100—3 best in 5 to harness; free for all horses owned west of Pittsburgh. The other race is for a purse of $100, with inside stakes of $20—3 best in 5 to harness; free for all horses that never trotted faster than 2:50.

SECOND DAY.

The attendance exceeded that of the first day, and many ladies graced the grounds with their presence.

SUMMARY—SECOND DAY.

Purse $250, with inside stakes of $100 each, p. p. Three best in five to harness. Free for all horses owned west of Pittsburgh. Closed with the following entries:

Cincinnati Park.

The Spring meeting in running races over the Cincinnati Park was inaugurated on Tuesday, with two races. The Commercial says the attendance was conclusively evident, both in character and numbers, of a much greater interest in the affair than was ever before manifested by our own substantial citizens, and the respectable portion of the community generally, in sports of the turf.

The races of the day were between the following named horses:

FIRST RACE.—Spencer House stake of $100 each, half forfeit—mile heats; $300 added by the proprietor of the Spencer House; for colts and fillies now 3 years old—mile heats.

Reber & Kuntz, ch. f. Lady Fashion, by imp. Bonnie Scotland; dam, Young Fashion by imp. Monarch.

R. A. Alexander, br. c. Ansel, by Lexington; dam by imp. Yorkshire.

The betting upon this race was comparatively light, the odds being heavily in favor of Ansel. The race was made in two heats, of a mile each, Ansel winning in both, by a length in the first, and barely a neck in the second, both being splendidly contested. The time of the first was 1:51—that of the second, 1:52.

The second race was run in full accordance with the announcement. The pool betting in this affair was very heavy indeed.

Purse, $400—mile heats for all ages.—1. D. S. Crouse, enters b. f. Scioto, four years old, by Vandal; dam, Mary, by Birmingham. Dress, black and green.

2. J. C. Kelley enters b. f. Lutestring, four years old, by Lexington; dam by Glencoe. Dress, black and orange.

3. G. W. Weldon enters b. c. Dr. Lindsay, four years old, by Lexington; dam, Kitty Clark, by Glencoe.

4. James W. Ford enters b. c. Grant, four years old, by Lexington; dam, Amanda Moorhead. Dress, blue and white.

Grant was the winner in two heats, of a mile each, in 1:45½ and 1:48.

Trot at Riverside Park, Boston.

There was a trot on Tuesday at the Riverside Trotting Park, near Boston, for a purse and stake of $400, mile heats, best three in five to harness. William Woodruff entered black mare Tib Woodward; J. J. Bowen, sorrel gelding Dan Mace, and Elish Goodwin, brown stallion Draco. The Woodward secured the pole, Draco the second position and Dan Mace the outside. Previous to the race Tib Woodward was the favorite at long odds. The following gives the result:

RIVERSIDE PARK, Tuesday, June 20, 1865.—Match for $400, mile heats, best three in five.

J. J. Brown's s. g. Dan Mace	2	1	1	1
Wm. Woodruff's b. m. Tib Woodword	1	2	2	2
E. Goodwin's b. s. Draco	3	dr.

SECOND DAY.

There were two races on Wednesday, as follows: Horse-men's stake; purse $600; two mile heats, for all ages; the gift of the horsemen of Cincinnati.

1. R. A. Alexander enters b. c. Asteroid, four years old, by Lexington; dam, Nebula, by imp. Yorkshire. Dress, blue and white.

2. Dr. J. W. Weldon enters ch. g. Red Oak, sired by sy second Altorf; dam, by Job. Dress, red and maroon. Asteroid won this race, making the two miles in three minutes and forty and one quarter seconds.

The second race was for a purse of $250; the gift of the Cincinnati Club; 1½ miles dash; selling race. Horses entered to be sold for $1,000, to carry their proper weight; if entered to be sold for $750, allowed seven pounds; if entered to be sold for $500, allowed fourteen pounds; if entered to be sold for $250, allowed twenty-one pounds. Any horse entered and not to be sold, to carry ten pounds extra. The winner to be sold by auction after the race. Any surplus to go to the Manager. The owner to retain his horse, should he not go over the price entered to be sold for.

1. Dr. J. W. Weldon enters b. c. Dr. Lindsay, four year old, by Lexington; dam, Kitty Clarke, by Glencoe. To be sold for $250, allowed twenty-one pounds. Dress, red and maroon.

2. M. Walsh enters b. c. Jack Armstrong, four years old, by Bob Johnson; dam, by Brawner Eclipse. To be sold for $500; allowed fourteen pounds. Dress, blue and white. Jack Armstrong won this race in 1:59.

Condition of Florida.

A Jacksonville, Fla., correspondent of the Tribune says the following facts may be taken as reflecting correctly the present condition of Florida. There are but few persons in the State of any class who are not exceedingly anxious that peace should continue. I do not think there is an armed rebel in the State. Emancipation has been promptly, in many cases cheerfully, and almost universally acquiesced in. But few of the freedmen have anything like a correct idea of the boon of liberty, but are very teachable. The influence of a Northern man is almost boundless over them, and it is of vast importance that simpletons, softies, goodies and rogues and rascals be not allowed to destroy that confidence. The late masters have but the glimmering of an idea of the situation of the colored men only as a slave. They welcome Northern men among them, and treat them with the utmost consideration. The present crop will not materially suffer in consequence of emancipation. Severe flogging with whip and paddle has not entirely disappeared. A few instances of shooting and other acts of violence have occurred and may yet occur. The late plantation masters generally have no ability to promote the social and moral elevation of the colored people, and they will remain in statu quo till placed under other influences. Nine-tenths of the ex-slaves are on the plantations working for wages, and will be paid by receiving a part of the crop. Great changes will take place next Christmas. Commissioners of peace and instruction should be kept constantly in the interior for at least a month to come.

Emigration from Canada.

The exodus of Canadians to the United States is a novel and curious feature of these times. A late number of a Montreal French paper, l'Ordre, says: "We regret to see that the emigration fever is still [illegible] intense this year among our countrymen. Since the beginning of this week more than thirty families have left Montreal for the United States." The Journal de Ste. Hyacinthe, of Tuesday week, also has the following: "More than one hundred persons from St. Pie arrived in this town yesterday, morning, bound for the American Republic, the State of Connecticut, where they are going to engage in manufactures. A high mass was sung on their departure from St. Pie, at which two hundred persons were present. Since Monday more than three hundred persons have left for the United States from the station in this town."

Amending the Constitution the Way to Solve the Suffrage Question.

The discussion that has already taken place on the question of Suffrage has awakened many intelligent persons to the necessity of a rule that shall be everywhere the same, which rule shall be a certain degree of intelligence, to be possessed by every voter. In no two States are the qualifications for voting the same. This results necessarily from the fact that it was left to the States to determine, each for itself, the limitations and restrictions. In two or three of the New England States, the ability to read is made a pre-requisite. In New York, and some other States, negroes may vote on a property qualification. In this State they are absolutely disfranchised on their color, without regard to intelligence or property. It is proposed, in dealing with the South, to reverse this rule, and give to the negroes the right to vote on their color, without regard to intelligence or property. The utter want of system, the glaring, stultifying inconsistency, developed by the agitation the question has received during the brief time it has been a popular topic, have done much to bring the public mind to embrace the idea that the time is favorable for responding to the necessity of reforming altogether, and making uniform in all the States, the qualifications for suffrage.

Taking a close view of the subject, as it is brought out by the present division of sentiment, the New York Times proposes an amendment of the Federal Constitution as the only practicable remedy. We quote:

"Is not the real security against the future sectional agitation of the negro franchise question to be found in an amendment to the Federal Constitution, guaranteeing the franchise to all men of the age of twenty-one years, native or naturalized, who are able to read? Such an amendment would remove all the present constitutional objections to an interference by the National Government in the matter of suffrage: would make an end of the invidious distinction of color, which is now deemed so unjust by the best part of the North, and would yet protect the South against the dangers of immense herds of perfectly ignorant voters. Moreover, it would be in complete harmony with the republican theory of government, would remove the greatest anomaly in the constitution, and would make an end of most grievous evils in respect to the elective franchise, suffered heretofore by both North and South.

"The great security of free institutions is the intelligence of the people. That is a republican axiom universally admitted. Yet the Federal Constitution, established expressly, as its preamble states, to insure domestic tranquility and secure the blessings of liberty, contains not a syllable guaranteeing, furthering, or in the slightest degree encouraging popular instruction. This vital matter is left absolutely to the separate States. The result has been that the Northern States have established systems of popular education which have made all our native population capable of self-guidance in all public duties; and that the Southern States have established no system of instruction whatever, whereby the masses of their people have been left in ignorance, and made the passive tools of traitors. Had the Southern people possessed the educational advantages of the Northern, this rebellion would have been impossible. We say, then, that the Constitution ought to contain within itself a security for that intelligence, without which it is exposed to danger."

As effecting the negroes of the South, the reading qualification, so far from discriminating against them, would, we think, place them at least on an equality with the generality of the whites. Our observation has taught us that the negro is not slow to learn to read. There is a mystery and a charm about it that answers every purpose in inducing him to put forth the necessary effort, even if he has no higher motive. Such a standard would be an incentive to learning, consequently to morality and virtue, throughout the country; to a considerable extent it would operate as a purifyer of the ballot-box, and thus remove, perhaps, one ground on which reflecting men build grave apprehensions as to the perpetuity of our political system. It would, moreover, utterly destroy the possibility of white and black parties, the arraying of one race against the other, toward which, in the South, there is at present a decided tendency. In such a warfare the less numerous—the blacks—would go down, and in this way they may be made the victims of untold oppression.

This idea is fit to go hand-in-hand with the Anti-Slavery Amendment to the Constitution. Great things come forth slowly. It is by discussion and under peculiar circumstances that we are made to discern them. Having planted the tree of universal Freedom, let us erect the standard of Intelligence for the exercise of suffrage throughout the land.

English Liberality.

The letter of Earl Russell, addressed to the Lords Commissioners of Admiralty, says: "Intelligence has reached this country that the late President of the so-called Confederacy has been captured by the military authorities of the United States, and has been transported as a prisoner to Fortress Monroe, and the Confederate forces have for the most part surrendered or disbanded." "In this posture of affairs," avers the noble Earl, "Her Majesty's Government is of the opinion that neutral nations can but consider the civil war in North America as at an end." In consequence of the discovery that the "civil war in America is at an end," Her Majesty's government proceeded to withdraw the concession of belligerent rights, made at an early day to the "late Confederate States," with a limitation in their favor that they shall have the benefit of the prohibition heretofore enforced against the pursuit of them within twenty-four hours after leaving port. We are not quite certain, but suppose it must be, at this point where the liberality of the British Government comes in towards the United States, in recognizing the fall of the rebel government. The English papers are filled with felicitations over the event, and appear very desirous to make somebody believe that it is attributable to the friendly feeling towards this country. Of course we don't call in question the disinterestedness of the motives that prompted their action. No doubt their fine sense of honor will be greatly hurt, on reading the note of our Secretary of State to Secretary Welles. From this they will learn that the action of "Her Majesty's Government," is not regarded in the light of a favor, in this country but that the continuance of the twenty-four hour order is looked upon as an affront to this country, and, as a consequence the courtesies usual on such occasions are not to be paid by our vessels to the vessels of the British Navy.

The course of the British Government in reviving the twenty-four hour rule is regarded by our Government as especially unfriendly, because, when we gave notice to foreign powers, that we should in future treat their vessels in our waters, as they treat ours in theirs, the English, as well as the other European Powers, at once withdrew the well-known twenty-four hour rule, by means of which the rebel cruisers had eluded our vigilance. Now it is renewed by England, with the manifest purpose of protecting the cruisers of the late Confederate States from the destruction that otherwise would surely overtake them. This seems like the last opportunity that England will have to show her sympathy with the Rebels, and she has made the most of it. It was evidently the intention of Her Majesty's Government to induce Napoleon to pursue the same policy toward us that she did, but this little friendly plot was checked in a very handsome style by our Secretary of State. The day before the action of England was published in this country, Mr. Seward published a note that France had withdrawn her belligerent recognition of the Rebels unqualifiedly. As the matter now stands, our relations with France, upon the score of belligerent rights, are of a perfectly friendly character, while, by the order of our Government, no official salute will be given to the British flag in our waters or anywhere. If the British Government are offended at it, the burden of putting our relations on an amicable footing rests with them.

The Kentucky Contest.

At no time have political movements and prospects in Kentucky been fraught with more interest than now. In the several Congressional Districts the candidates are getting on the stump, but the most important is the question of ratifying the Anti-Slavery Amendment. The Louisville Journal, which advocated the election of General McClellan, is battling earnestly for the Amendment, and many influential citizens, who were Democrats a few months ago, are giving their influence for the constitutional destruction of slavery.

In the Louisville District, Major General Rousseau, is the Union candidate for Congress, and has entered upon an active campaign before the people. The district gave McClellan a large majority, but the contest now is of a different character, all other questions being swallowed up in that of the adoption or rejection of the Constitutional Amendment by Kentucky. The city of Louisville was saved from capture in 1861 by the forethought and courage of Rousseau.

In the Second District, Hon. George H. Yeaman, a member of the last Congress, is a candidate for re-election. He also supported McClellan for the Presidency, but cutting loose from party affiliations, is making the present canvass in favor of the Amendment, and is doing excellent service.

General Speed S. Fry, the hero of Mill Spring, is the Union candidate in the Lexington District, and General Green Clay Smith in the Covington District.

If, with such candidates and earnestness, Kentucky does not make an anti-slavery record, we shall be disappointed.

William H. Seward.

A fresh sorrow has overclouded the home and entered the heart of Mr. Seward. His wife has been taken from him by death. With equal pace the great destroyer approaches the mansions of the great and the humble dwellings of the poor. Those who have journeyed together from the spring-time of life, are parted in the autumnal season of the "sere and yellow leaf." The dark angels often fly in troops. This sorrow is grouped with those which recently befel the person and the family of Mr. Seward, and which startled the country and the world with horror.

We are apt to view men, who have long been associated, in our minds, with eminent positions and public affairs, abstractly from their domestic relations and private interests. Viewing them in their official acts, seeing their names connected only with the great movements of the times and the important interests of the country, we insensibly fail to recognize their participation in the common experiences of humanity—the social joys and sorrows, the tender home feeling, the emotions of fraternal love, the endearments of conjugal affection. Yet, those noble men who, not from ambition but from patriotism, have filled the posts of honor and served their country in the highest offices of the State, may have hearts full of the generous emotions of friendship, glowing with love, and open to all the gentle sentiments and influences of virtuous life.

Mr. Seward has been in public life since he was a young man. He has occupied the most important offices of trust, both in his native State and in the General Government. He has passed through times and scenes of the greatest excitement and peril. He has kept his steady hand on the foreign interests of the Government, at a time and through an era when all its domestic interests and its entire destiny were subjected to the terrible arbitrament of contending armies within its own bosom. The murderous plot that aimed to take his life, when it took that of President Lincoln, was a testimony to the eminent fidelity and splendid effectiveness of his official services. And it is not an inconsiderable tribute to Mr. Seward, nay, it is a crowning honor, that in all his public life, in the gubernatorial chair, in the Senate Hall, at the Secretary's desk, his personal excellence has never been assailed by an unfriendly impeachment or allegation.

In the terrific excitement attendant on the President's assassination, it was but natural that the lesser calamity, that threatened but did not destroy the life of the Secretary, should engross a minor share of the public attention. Severe as the grief was which the country felt for him, wounded and mutilated by the murderer's knife, there was always an accompanying hope to mitigate it. And as far as his official services are concerned, that hope has been realized by his return to the important duties of his office. And now, in his domestic afflictions, connected with his son wounded by the same assassin's hand, and with his sad conjugal bereavement, he has the sympathy of the country, as he has had its honor and admiration.

Capital and Labor.

These are, in fact, fast friends of each other. They are, like all good friends, mutually helps and dependents of each other. Neither is able to do any great thing without the other's aid. Capital, that is, money, is dead without labor to turn it to useful and lucrative purposes; and labor, that is, muscle and skill, have no chance of profitable returns, without the investment, in some way, of capital. Soil implements require money for their purchase.

Yet, it is strange, between these real friends, there is an almost continued jealousy, breaking out occasionally into open quarrel. They have stood as antagonists, always ready to fight, and coming to agreement only on compromise. Capital has called labor hard, sullen, unreasonable; and labor has responded with epithets of lordly, pinching and oppressive. The skirmish line is wages. Strikes are the pitched battles, in which both parties suffer loss and damage as much as they can bear, and then come to a treaty.

The general public is interested in these quarrels. Though the good natured public are not participants in the contest they have to pay the charges, whichever party gains the day. If wages go up, they have to pay, the exorbitant going to labor; if wages go down, they have to pay, leaving only the wider margin of profit to capital—other people's capital.

The good-natured public is enjoying this privilege of paying, just now, as the result of strife between capital and labor. The drovers and the butchers have a shindy and we pay twenty-five per cent. above the fair price of meat. The coal dealers and coal diggers squabble often enough to keep coal at an enormous price. The milk men, having both the capital and labor within themselves, manage things in their own way, easily contented with eight or ten cents a quart for milk.

Suppose the good-natured public should strike too.

Ruffin, the Rebel Suicide.

Edmund Ruffin, the Virginia rebel suicide, was a recognized type of Southern chivalry, as it understands itself. He was among the earliest disunionists, and went to Charleston, accompanied by Pryor, with the view of doing something to precipitate hostilities, by which alone Virginia could be moved to secede. He begged and obtained the privilege of firing the first gun against Sumter and the American flag. The same hand pulled the trigger that blew out his worthless brains! No doubt disunion became a seated sentiment. He was an enthusiast in everything. He died a heart-broken traitor, and cheated the gallows out of an honest claim.

Noble Sentiments.—The sentiments expressed by President Johnson, in his response to the address of the Congregational churches in Boston, are worthy of being reproduced in an enduring form. Said he: "In the arduous and embarrassing duties devolved upon me, I feel the need of the co-operation and sympathy of the people, and of the assistance of the Great Ruler of the Universe. These duties I shall endeavor to discharge honestly, and to the best of my judgment, with the conviction that the best interests of civil and religious liberty throughout the world will be preserved and promoted by the success and permanency of our country. Let us all labor to that end, and that mission upon which this people have been sent among the nations of the earth will be accomplished."

Maj. Gen. Sherman for Gen. Cox.—Senator John Sherman and Representative R. C. Schenck, were serenaded at Columbus, O., on Tuesday evening. During the speech of Senator Sherman, he stated that Maj. Gen. Sherman, on hearing of the declination of Governor Brough, remarked "that as General Cox was a good soldier and a cultivated gentleman, he hoped the Convention would unanimously nominate him." The Senator further declared that Gen. Cox (now the Union nominee for Governor) would have no more decided supporter in Ohio than Maj. Gen. W. T. Sherman.

Political.—At a meeting of the Conferees of the National Union party of the Senatorial representatives from the districts composed of the counties of Union, Snyder and Lycoming, John B. Linn of Union county, was appointed Senatorial delegate, and J. B. Montgomery, of Lycoming county; Charles H. Shrives, of Union county, and [illegible] W. Wagonseller, of Snyder county, as [illegible]ative delegates to the next State Conv[illegible].

Was Not a Candidate.—Hon. Samuel Galloway withdrew from the gubernatorial canvass in Ohio on Monday, in favor of Gen. Cox, who was unanimously nominated on Wednesday.

Sound Advice to those who Need it.

The Boston Advertiser administers some sound advice to a class who need it. Speaking of the policy of the administration on reconstruction, it says frankly it does not square with its own ideas, for it believes less haste would be better; but it does not therefore feel to distrust President Johnson, or to agitate against him. On the contrary, the Advertiser believes he is doing just what he believes is best, and is thoroughly devoted to the good of the freedmen and the whole country. The Advertiser concludes by saying:

To those therefore, who wish to see sound and liberal ideas prevail in the general course of this administration, who believe that in more points than one, we have now to establish the strenth of the Union and the permanence of its prosperity and authority, our counsel is to take good heed to their steps and to beware how the they take it for granted that the administration is diverging from the path where they can support it. Let them be cautious how they follow the lead of professional agitators, and how they spread needless and unfounded apprehension as to the course adopted by men who have upon them the whole responsibility of decision. We may regret what seems to us premature action; but let us see to it that on our own part premature judgment is avoided as well.

Wonderful Power of Steam.—The Chicago Tribune relates the following: Another instance of the wonderful power of steam, as developed in the blowing up of the tug M. Fanny Spafford, on Monday last, was that of a six-inch spike, weighing four ounces, being thrown up into the air a distance of from 200 to 300 feet, and then carried in a semi-circular direction a distance of 3,000 feet, and falling directly through the skylight of the four story brick building No. 209 Lake street, passing to the ground floor, going through a large mirror, which it shattered to pieces.

Northern Iowa is receiving a large increase to her population this season. New comers are daily arriving, buying farms, and settling down to their part of the development of this fair and rich portion of the earth.

General Intelligence

Surveyors are now running the route of the Southern Pa. R. R. in Fulton county, Pa., and at last accounts had reached a point just beyond Harrisonville. The Franklin Repository says the work has been taken hold of in good earnest, and there is every reason to believe that the road will be speedily put under contract.

On the day that the Princess of Wales gave birth to her last baby, twelve hundred persons called at the door of her residence to inquire after her health, notwithstanding several bulletins were published in the papers and posted in the city. The inquirers were gratified on learning that the "mother and child were doing well."

A little girl eight years old, while placing pins on the railroad track at Williamsport, one day last week, was run over and killed.

A Southerner was lately arrested at Mechanicsburg, Pa., charged with robbing a farmer in Cumberland county. He has made a confession in which he states that an organized band of Southerners, called the White Ghosts, is scattered through Pennsylvania, for the purpose of robbing the people. Papers were found on his person giving the names and localities of different individuals in the valley; as well a list of towns and distances between them, from Williamsport to Lancaster.

Morse's American Geography has been excluded by authority from the public schools of Upper Canada, because it is "calculated to impress on the youthful mind the idea that the United States of America is the only country in the world meriting particular description, and that other lands are merely pendicles and appurtenances of that great nation, while the pictorial illustrations exhibit the bravery of American troops and the cowardice of their opponents.

It appears that the Emperor of the French does not allow the Prince Imperial to confess in the ordinary way. His Majesty has drawn up a number of questions, which, daily, are to be put to the Prince by the father confessor in the presence of a third person. There has been, naturally, a little warm discussion about the matter, but the issue has been the polite obedience of the church, and the victory of the will of the Emperor.

A soldier in Harrisburg drank twice near the depot in that city on last Wednesday, and when he awoke next morning, found himself lying on the Market street canal bridge, less his wallet, containing seven hundred and sixty dollars, and a valuable gold watch. He charges that the liquor was drugged in the saloon.

Two Indian chiefs named Two-faced and Blackfoot, were hung at Fort Laramie, Dacotah Territory, on the 27th ult. They boasted on the scaffold of the number of white men they had killed, and said they would kill more if permitted to live, but as they were about to join their fathers in the happy hunting grounds, they would leave further murders to be committed by the surviving braves of their tribe.

A Canadian was decoyed into a scow in Buffalo, on Thursday week, on pretence of rowing him to a propellor, and robbed of $100, and then thrown overboard. Fortunately he swam ashore, but the robbers escaped.

In German the verb bekommen means to get or to receive. One day a lady asked an English-speaking German what would be the best method of ascending one of the Seven Mountains. "Oh," he replied, "it is is very easy. You do go in de train from Bonn, and you do cross de Rhine at Konigswinter, and den you do become donkeys!"

A man named Elliot, who left Bellefonte, Centre county, and joined John Morgan's guerrilla band, lately had the audacity to return to Bellefonte and claim a friendly acquaintance with the true and loyal men of Centre county. He was summarily refused and driven out of the community, without ceremony, as he deserved to have been.

Last week, in Nashville, a young woman, named Charlotte Brown, a daughter of wealthy and respectable parents, committed suicide in her grief at cruel treatment from the man for whom she had left her house and adopted a life of shame. Curiously enough, this man was summoned as one of the jurors in the Coroner's inquest over her body, and the jury had to be discharged in consequence, and another drawn.

Miss Elizabeth Brown, a beautiful young lady of eighteen, in a frolicsome race, at Deerfield Massachusetts, on the 17th inst., with two other young ladies, who were attempting to cross a bridge in front of a railroad train, was struck by the engine and killed.

Two negro boys, seventeen years old, were arrested on the 13th inst., near Opeka, Kansas, for stealing horses. Pending their examination before a justice of peace, about a dozen men entered the office of the magistrate, and took them a short distance into the bushes, shot and buried them.

A terrific tornado swept through Cedar Valley, Iowa, Friday a week, six o'clock in the afternoon, sweeping fifty miles in breadth. At many points it swept everything movable in its path. Two uprooted fences scattered in every direction, and a good many of the less substantial buildings blown down. There had been considerable rain in the morning. This storm was similar to the storm which passed through the same section of country in 1860, and extending to the Mississippi, destroyed so much property at Camanche. By some it is pronounced to have been more severe.

A General in Dick Taylor's army offered a negro woman a thousand dollar Confederate note to wash him a shirt. She wouldn't do it for that, but did it for half a loaf of corn bread.

A gentleman in Philadelphia is building a yacht at a cost of $65,000.

The heir of an ancient British earldom, who has been wanting, was found at last as a "boots" in Australia. A draft for £100 accompanied an intimation that he was to come to England to put in his claim, but the "boots" spent the money in drink, and died within a week from debauchery, thus clearing the way for the next one.

The town of Flushing, L. I., was the scene of a fearful riot among the firemen, last Tuesday. The various fire companies of the Long Island villages, with delegations from New York and Brooklyn, had assembled to have a trial of their engines, and thousands of spectators, men, women and children, were collected in the main street of the town to witness the sport. Soon after the commencement of the proceedings, an attack was made on one of the machines, and instantly a wild scene ensued, pistols, knives and stones being used freely by the combatants. The fight lasted for a considerable time, and it is reported that during its continuance three persons were killed and forty or fifty wounded.

The federal postmaster at Staunton, Va., was owing the government about twelve hundred dollars at the commencement of the rebellion. He visited Washington last week to settle up the account by filing receipts of the "Confederate government" for the amount. His astonishment was unbounded when the offer was declined.

The largest of the Indian tribes at the West is the Camanches. The tribe numbers 20,000 in all.

The Western newspapers are in extacies about a young lady, on Rock Prairie, 17 years old, who drives her father's reaping team, and frequently takes a load of grain to market, 15 miles, and sells it. She plays the piano, sings charmingly, does the honors of the drawing room with dignity, can make a loaf of bread or play "Bridget" in Ma's kitchen, with equal readiness. She is valued at her weight in gold to a sensible young man.

Personal.

Gen. Frank. P. Blair arrived in St. Louis on Tuesday, and met with a warm reception from his friends.

Rev. Dr. P. Schaff, of the Mercersburg Theological Seminary, has sailed for Europe in the Helvetia, in company with several clerical friends, and expects to be absent several months.

Gen. W. W. Irvine, of Beaver county, the present Commissary General of the State, will be a candidate for Auditor General at the approaching State Convention.

Major Freeman, a United States Paymaster, who has been confined in the military prison of Louisville for nearly a year, was recently tried by court martial, and found guilty of embezzling United States funds. He was fined $25,000, and sentenced to imprisonment at Frankfort for a number of years.

Mr. Saulsbury, Governor of Delaware, and for more than twelve years a United States Senator, has just sent into the Legislature of that State a labored argument to prove slavery a blessing, and State sovereignty the great cure for all our evils.

Judge Jeremiah Black is assisting Mr. Buchanan in preparing his forthcoming book for publication. It is supposed that the Judge will see to it that the special pleading is done up in the best style of the "profession."

The European Squadron.

Admiral Goldsboro's European Squadron will probably consist of ten ships on an average. The ships now in that service will probably soon return to undergo repairs, having been in active service since the beginning of the war. Their armaments will be immediately reduced, the Kearsarge, Niagara and Sacramento now carrying much more metal than they were designed to carry when built. Nearly all of the vessels designed for the European squadron, and now in service, will need extensive repairs, and it will probably be a long time before the most powerful vessels will be ready to enter the squadron.

The Colorado, which has been in commission since she was refitted—about one month—is a splendid frigate and will reflect much credit on our navy abroad. It is expected she will be on the European station about two years, probably for the greater part of the time in the Mediterranean Sea.

Increase of Internal Revenue.—The internal revenue returns of the Second Congressional District of Ohio, (the western district of Cincinnati, and Hamilton county), in 1862, were about two hundred thousand dollars. In 1863, the sum was over three hundred thousand dollars. In 1864, (just made out), the amount is a little over one million, one hundred thousand dollars. These facts show that the machinery is becoming operative.

By the Saratoga fire, the loss of J. M. Marvin & Co., owners of the United States Hotel, is estimated at $250,000; insurance, $125,000. A. & D. Snyder, of the Marvin House, lost $22,000; insurance, $17,000.

That Remarkable Cow.

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 21, 1865.

To the Editor of the Commercial:

In your Monday's issue, I notice an extract, taken from the Washington Republican, in reference to the remarkable march of a cow with Sherman's army, from Atlanta to Washington. This same identical cow passed through this place, on Friday last, with the above named General's wagon train, which is now being moved in sections of two hundred and fifty wagons, each to Louisville, Ky. She was in charge of the Quartermaster of the train, and supplied milk sufficient for the use of the officers, while making from twenty to twenty-five miles per day on the road towards the home she left to follow Sherman in his victorious march through rebeldom. I was informed by one of the officers in charge of the train, who had been with Sherman, that this extraordinary animal would search out the wagon she had been accustomed to travel with, if let loose, among a thousand. She was consigned, we believe, to a gentleman in Kentucky, who intends placing her upon his farm.

ONE OF SHERMAN'S VETERANS.

Philadelphia and Liverpool Steamship Line.

Without much noise, but surely, we are told, this line has been established. It is now composed of the Bosphorus, the Gambia, the Propontis, and the Hector; but it is probable the present steamers will hereafter be substituted by two other foreign vessels, and two steamers built in Philadelphia, to be called the Fairmount and the Southwark. They sail from Liverpool to Boston, discharging their passengers and a portion of their freight in that city; then, coming to Philadelphia, they receive their outward cargoes here and proceed direct from that port to Liverpool. The first vessel that sailed was the Gambia, but a derangement in its machinery compelled it to return for repairs. The Bosphorus, with a full cargo, and seven hundred emigrants, sailed next, and it was the first to arrive. It obtained on its return trip about two hundred and fifty second-class passengers, (it has no accommodations for first-class passengers,) and a full cargo of freight.

Missing Soldiers.—Miss Clara Barton, of Washington, has hit upon an excellent device for bringing to the knowledge of friends the fate or whereabouts of missing soldiers. Some weeks ago she published an invitation to the public to send to her address, in Washington, a description of missing soldiers, giving the name, regiment, company, and the State to which they respectively belong. In response, she has already received such descriptions of some thousands. Roll No. 1 is a large sheet, containing, we believe, about fifteen hundred names of missing prisoners of war. Twenty thousand copies of this roll have been printed and circulated all through the loyal States, and among the camps; and she now calls upon soldiers and others who can give information concerning the missing men to write to her immediately. Great care should be taken to write the name and address in every instance plainly. Her plan is highly appreciated and approved by the War Department and by the President. All letters must be directed to Miss Clara Barton, Washington, D. C.

Incendiary Fires in Cleveland.—On Monday night two extensive fires, the work of incendiaries, took place in Cleveland, resulting in a loss of $30,000. The first fire took place about half past twelve, and resulted in the destruction of a cabinet factory and several dwellings, the property of E. J. Whalen. The second fire destroyed the joiner shop of R. R. Herrick, and several dwellings. Three men, with torches in their hands, were discovered near the premises, but succeeded in escaping.

MERCHANTS' AND MANUFACTURERS' NATIONAL BANK.

PITTSBURGH, June 21st, 1865.

Having been instructed by the Comptroller of the United States Currency that it will be impossible for him to complete the arrangement for the increase of capital of this Bank, as first authorized, beyond one half the amount contemplated ($400,000) owing to the apportionment to Pennsylvania being already more than absorbed. Stockholders are hereby notified that Twenty Dollars, or one half of the shares of new stock subscribed will, by direction of said Comptroller, be refunded, on application at the Bank, thus reducing new stock to one-half the shares already subscribed for. No further installments on the balance of the new stock will be required. The capital of the Bank, therefore, will be reduced from the contemplated sum of One Million Dollars to Eight Hundred Thousand.

TO BE SOLD, WITH IMMEDIATE POSSESSION, IF DESIRED,

A FARM,

of 120 acres in high state of cultivation, promising crops covering the whole, with genteel residence, ample for a large family, furnaces, etc. On the premises is every convenience for the conduct of a farm, all in the most perfect order, almost new. Barn 72 by 45, with addition for Straw, Stacks; Wagon and Carriage Houses; a large frame Tobacco Shed, 50 by 40; two tasteful Tenant Houses, etc., etc. The proprietor has planted large gardens, seven hundred Fruit Trees of all kinds; 600 Grape Vines, many in full bearing; numerous Shade Trees, and has spared no pains or expense to make this an elegant and profitable investment. He now offers the whole, including the handsome furniture of the House, Standing Crops on the Ground, Horses, Cows, Stock Implements, Carriages, &c., &c., for a moderate sum in 5-20's or 7-30's. The Estate is situated in a most picturesque and healthful part of Pennsylvania, within a mile of Post-Office and Railroad to all the cities, and is a direct line from them to the Oil Region. The Farmer and the Gardener occupy the tenant houses, and any gentleman unacquainted with farming, but desirous of that peaceful, healthy occupation, may here find an easy introduction, and his family enjoy at once all the luxuries of country life. ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.—The above reward will be paid by the undersigned for the return of the HAND TRUNK AND CONTENTS stolen from me this morning while on the Philadelphia Fast Line Express Train, between East Liberty and Pittsburgh, due there at 2:20 A. M. It contained Eight Hundred and Ten Dollars in money; 4 One Hundred Dollar Bills, and the remainder in Five and Ten Dollar Bills; 4 Acceptances of a Philadelphia Produce House for Thirteen Hundred and Fifty-Four Dollars and Fifty-Four Cents each, and one of a New York House for Eleven Hundred and Twenty-Three Dollars; 2 large Pocket Books, the dark one containing valuable papers, Due Bills, Notes and 5 Bills Lading for Produce from Pittsburgh, issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and numerous small articles, valuable only to the owner. The other contained the Bank Bills, 1 Photograph and a receipt. The Hand Trunk was a medium sized one, having on each end the letters "L. M. J" in black; can be seen dimly, as it was recently varnished heavily, and has quite a dark appearance. It also contained a light Cloth Coat, new; 1 pair Shoes; 3 shirts; Handkerchiefs, and other wearing apparel; Besides a Silver Cup, a Dumb Bell, Sewing Bird, and many other small items, Books, etc., things only valuable to the owner. The above Reward will be paid for the return of Trunk and contents, or the apprehension of the thief who took it.

United States 7-30 LOAN!

THIRD SERIES.
$230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury notes, bearing seven and three tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the 7-30 LOAN.
These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into
U. S. 5-20 Six Per Cent.
GOLD BEARING BONDS.
These bonds are now worth a handsome premium and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds from State, County and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum to their value according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.
The interest at 7.30 per cent amounts to
One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents per day on a $100 note.
Ten cents per day on a $500 note.
Twenty cents per day on a $1,000 note.
One dollar per day on a $5,000 note.
Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.
The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7 3-10ths in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15, at the time when they subscribe.
The delivery of the notes of this Third Series of the Seven-Thirties will commence on the first of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.
The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.
The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. in currency. This is
THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET,
Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the great Popular Loan of the People.
Less than $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within sixty days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other loans.
In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and private bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

The best Patent Artificial Leg in the United States and the only one in Pittsburgh, is made by REICHENBACH,
No. 58 Fourth street, near Market street.
No other person in this city has a patent for Artificial Limbs. His Patent Leg resembles the natural limb in all its movements, as well as in appearance, and cannot be detected by an experienced eye. It met the approbation of the Army Board in Washington, January 12th, 1864, at which time a patent was granted the inventor. Parties in this city and elsewhere have attempted to imitate the patent, but have only produced worthless limbs.
Crutches can be dispensed with the first time the leg is worn. On horseback, it has the power and movements as when walking.
REICHENBACH also manufactures an ARTIFICIAL HAND, which is natural in appearance and movements, and when worn but a short time by those requiring them, are indispensable. je14-1y

AGENTS WANTED FOR "THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON AND THE ESCAPE." By Albert D. Richardson, "New York Tribune" correspondent.—The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years; traveling through the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly four hundred miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.
Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it peculiarly adapted to their condition. We have agents clearing $150 per month, which we will prove to any doubting applicant. Send for circulars. Address

NOTICE.
Sale of Army Mules.
QUARTERMATER GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28, 1865.
Many thousands of Mules are being disposed of at Washington.
The sales will continue until the number of animals is reduced in proportion to the reduction of the armies, now going on rapidly.
There are in the Armies of the Potomac, of the Tennessee, and of Georgia, probably Four Thousand of the finest six-mule teams in the world.
Many of them were bought at the beginning of the war, as young mules, accompanied the armies in all their marches and camps, and are thoroughly broken, hardened by exercise, gentle and familiar, from being so long surrounded by the soldiers.
The whole South is stripped of farming stock, and the North also has suffered from the drain of animals, taken to supply the armies.
These animals are sold at public auction: they will not bring anything like their true value; and such opportunities for farmers to get working animals to stock their farms, and for drovers and dealers in stock to make good speculations, by purchasing and disposing of them in the South, will never occur again.
M. C. MEIGS,
Quartermaster General,

SUMMER.

[The following appeared in the Atlantic for October.]

Summer in all! deep Summer in the pines,
And Summer in the music on the sands,
And Summer where the sea-flowers rise and fall
About the gloomy foreheads of stern rocks
And the green wonders of our circling sphere.

Can mockery be hidden in such guise,
To peep, like sunlight, behind shifting leaves,
And dye the purple berries of the field,
Or gleam like moonlight upon the juniper,
Or wear the gems outshining jewelled pride?
Can mockery do this, and we endure
In Nature's rounded palace of the world?

Where, then, has fled the Summer's wonted peace?
Sweeter than breath borne on the scented seas,
Over fresh fields, and brought to weary shores,
It should await the season's worshipper;
But as a star shines on the daisy's eye,
So shines great Conscience on the face of Peace,
And lends it calmer luster with the dew;
When that star dims, the paling floweret fades!

Yet there be those who watch a serpent crawl
And, blackening, sleep with a blossom's heart,
Who will not slay, but call their gazing "Peace,"
Even thus within the bosom of our land
Creeps, serpent-like, sedition, and hath gnawed
In silence, while a timid crowd stood still.

O suffering land! O dear, long-suffering land,
Slay thou the serpent ere he slime the core!
Take thou our houses and amenities,
Take thou the hand that parting clings to ours,
And going bears our heart into the fight;
Take thou, but slay the serpent ere he kill!

Now, as a lonely watcher on the strand,
Hemmed by the mist and the quick coming waves,
Hears but one voice, the voice of warning bell,
That solemn speaks, "Beware the jaws of death!"
Death on the sea, and warning on the strand!
Such is our life, while Summer, mocking broods.

O mighty heart! O brave, heroic soul!
Hid in the dim mist of the things that be,
We call thee up to fill the highest place!
Whether to till thy corn and give the tithe,
Whether to grope a picket in the dark,
Or, having nobly served, to be cast down.

And unregarded, passed be meaner feet,
Or, happier thou, to snatch the fadeless crown
And walk in youth and beauty to God's rest,
The purpose makes the hero, meet thy doom!

We call to thee, where'er thy pillowed head
Rests lonely for the brother who has gone
To fix thy gaze on Freedom's crysolite,
Which rueful fate can neither crack nor mar,
And, hand in hand indissolubly bound
To thy next fellow, hand and purpose one,
Stretch thus, a living wall, from the rock coast
Home to our ripe and yellow heart of the West,
Impenetrable union triumphing.

The solemn Autumn comes, the gathering time!
Stand we now ripe, a harvest for the Right!
That, when fair Summer shall return to earth
Peace may inhabit all her sacred ways,
Lap in the waves upon melodious sands,
And linger in the swaying of the corn,
Or sit with clouds upon the ambient skies,
Summer and Peace brood on the grassy knolls
Where twilight glimmers over the calm dead,
While clustered children chant heroic tales.

BRIEF MISCELLANY.

The author of "Sketches in Paraguay" gives us this fragrant morsel: Everybody smokes in Paraguay, and nearly every female above thirteen years of age chews. I am wrong. They do not chew, but put the tobacco in their mouths, keep it there constantly, except when eating, and instead of chewing roll it about with their tongues and suck it. Only imagine yourself about to salute the rich red lips of a magnificent little Hebe, arrayed in satin and flashing diamonds; she puts you back with one delicate hand, while with the fair taper fingers of the other, she draws forth from her mouth a brownish black roll of tobacco, quite two inches long, looking like a monstrous grub, and depositing the savory morsal on the rim of your sombrero, puts up her face and is ready for your salute. I have sometimes seen an over-delicate foreigner turn with a shudder of loathing under such circumstances, and get the epithet of el savaco (the savage) applied to him by the offended beauty for this sensitive squeamishness. However, one soon gets used to this in Paraguay, where you are perforce of custom obliged to kiss every lady you are introduced to; and one-half you meet are really tempting enough to render you reckless of consequence; you would sip the dew of the proffered lips in the face of a tobacco battery—even the double distilled "honey dew" of old Virginia.

What do you think, by the way, of such a wonder as feeding a person by eating food yourself? Yet the Rev. R. A. F. Barrett, of King's College, Cambridge, would have us believe it possible. He tells of his being called to see a woman who, for twelve years, was compelled to remain in a horizontal position. He used to mesmerise her, and states that on one occasion, when she was suffering severely in the throat, he ate some black currant paste, which, she said, moistened it. "Before you ate,' she said, "my stomach was contracted; now the stomach is its full size, and does not look shrunk." (She was a clairvoyant, and could see her own internal condition.) Doctor: 'But you could not get nourishment so?' Patient: 'Yes, I could get all my system wants.' In the evening, says Mr. Barrett, I kept her asleep one hour, and took tea for her. I ate dinner and she felt much stronger for it. I kept her asleep two hours and a quarter in the morning and one hour in the evening, eating for her as usual. What a blessing and a saving it will be if people can really eat for one another! No more destitute pauperism; no more starvation.—London Letter.

The Private Secretary of the Emperor Maximilian passed through New York a few days ago, en route for France. His business is to put a few pertinent questions to Louis Napoleon, upon the answers to which will depend the continuance of Maximilian's stay in Mexico. This official made no secret of his mission or its objects, and stated that he was to learn from the Julius Cesar man's own lips "How many troops France would furnish to sustain the Mexican machine;" "How soon they might be expected," and "whether France would pay the expenses, as Mexico couldn't." An additional circumstance of note, in connection with this Mexican matter, is the fact that the only heir to the throne of Austria, whose claims take precedence of Maximilian himself, now happens to be in failing health, and if his toes should suddenly take a vigorous turn upward towards the roots of the daisy, Mexico would lose all her charms for Max., and the Julius Cesar man would have to look about for another stuffed shirt wherewith to fill the Mexican throne.

One of our tallest poppies in the petroleum line, says a New York letter, seems destined soon to touch bottom. Immensely respectable in its paternity, and abundantly capitalized, there is nevertheless a most disproportionate supply of oil on the much bepuffed property of the company. The story goes that the "lands" were originally sold (with 1,100 head of cattle on them) at $7,000; resold at $11,000; then divided and half sold at $90,000 to six gentlemen of prominence and respectability here. These last proprietors organized the company upon a capital of several millions, raised any quantity of money in cash, which has been divided equally among themselves, and now a horde of hungry stockholders are in an axious state on the subject of dividends which can never be declared because there is no oil on the company's land. As Madam Roland said about Liberty, "Oh Petroleum, what crimes are committed in thy name."

The toilettes worn at the first representation of L'Africaine in Paris, was magnificent. One youthful married lady wore a black silk gauze dress, starred all over with steel; the second skirt was looped up as a tunic, with a silk cord beaded with steel and jet; a corslet, made of the same silken material, interwoven with steel, was worn as a beddice; it extended to the hips, looking like the cuirass of some knight of old. Above this cuirass the boddice was puffed and terminated round the shoulders with steel gimp and a row of black lace insertion. A black velvet necklace, with steel drops, encircled the throat, and the steel ear-rings were long enough to touch the shoulders. The head-dress consisted of cut steel, about an inch wide, which was worn at the top of the well-waved hair; two bandeaux of hair rose beyond this steel diadem, and at the back a steel comb looped up plaits, which had black ribbon velvet introduced among them.

An officer in garrison at Lille has given a dinner to some friends, at which the principal dish was the roasted shoulder of a lion, killed by M. Chassing, in Africa, on the 21st of March last. The meat had the flavor of highly pickled wild boar, and was eaten, we hear, with much relish by the guests.

A little Swedish girl, while walking with her father on a starry night, absorbed in the contemplation of the skies, being asked of what she was thinking, replied: "I was thinking if the wrong side of heaven is so glorious, what must the right side be!"

President Lincoln gave his opinion of the Fremont party last fall, by turning to 1st Samuel, 22:2, and reading: "And every one that was in distress, and every one that was in debt, and every one that was discontented, gathered themselves unto him; and he became a captain over them; and there was with him about four hundred men."

Thackeray says that "when a man is in love with one woman in a family, it is astonishing how fond he becomes of every one connected with it. He ingratiates himself with the maids; he is bland with the butler; he interests himself with the footman; he runs on errands for the daughters; he gives and lends money to the young son at college; he pats little dogs which he would kick otherwise; he smiles at old stories, which would make him break out in yawns were they uttered by any one else but papa; he drinks sweet port wine, for which he would curse the stewart and the whole committee at a club; he bears even with the cantankerous old maiden aunt; he beats time when the darling little Fanny performs her piece on the piano; and smiles when wicked little Bobby upsets the coffee on his shirt."

At the time of the occurrence of the recent dreadful explosion in Mobile, Mr. ——, a well known business man, was seated at dinner in the Battle House. The crash came, and he sprang to his feet, and dashed wildly towards the main exit of the hotel. The window frames were crashing, the glass falling in all directions, and the crumbling plaster powdered his dark locks to a snowy whiteness. Badly cut and bruised as he was by these missiles, he gazed calculatingly up and down the street for a moment, and then started at full speed to the telegraph office, screaming, "Glass and putty—glass and putty—tell —— to ship nothing but glass and putty." After making this order to his New Orleans correspondent intelligible to the telegraph operator, the gentleman fainted and has ever since been suffering from brain fever.

FALLING OFF OF CANAL TOLLS.—The receipts of tolls on the canals of the State of New York for the month of May, amounted to $336,078, being $239,615 less than the corresponding month of 1864. The tolls reached their highest figure, $5,188,943, in 1862; and it is estimated that this year the receipts will fall back to the aggregate of 1859, $2,123,945. The low price of Western produce is said to be the reason of this great decline.

FOR MORE THAN TWENTY YEARS Matthews' VENETIAN HAIR DYE has stood the test of trial, and is constantly increasing in public favor.
The VENETIAN HAIR DYE is the best and cheapest made. Its price is only 75 cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.
THIS HAIR DYE is manufactured by a peculiar process, which renders it infinitely superior to any dye in the market. Being complete in one bottle, no preparation is required, which greatly simplifies the application.
IN USING THIS DYE, you avoid that RUSTY, DEAD apearance by which dyed hair and whiskers are so readily recognized, when an inferior article has been used, as it produces a perfectly natural color of any shade that is desired, from a rich brown to a jetty, lustrous black, that will not smut, crock or stain the clothing. Invest 75 cents, and you will be convinced. Sold by all Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

EXCELLENT WINE FOR FEMALES.
Every family at this season should use the SAMBURG WINE, celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
AS A TONIC it has no equal, causing an appetite and building up the system, being entirely a pure wine of a most valuable grape.
AS A DIURETIC it imparts a healthy action of the Glands, Kidneys and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S WINE is a pure article from the Juice of the Port Grape, possessing medical properties superior to any other wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children. Try it once, and you will not be deceived.
Be sure the signature of ALFRED SPEER is over the cork of each bottle.
Sold by N. McCLARREN & Co., JOS. FLEMMING FRED, BRAUN, ALFRED J. RANKIN, and J. M FULTON. In Allegheny, by GEO. A. KELLY & Co. and S. R. CRAIG, and by all first class dealers in surrounding towns, who also sell the CASTELLA PORT BRANDY, a choice old article imported only by Mr. SPEER, direct from the vaults of Oporto. Trade supplied by B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S SON & Co., and by A. SPEER, at his Vineyard, New Jersey. Principal Office, 208 Broadway, New York. 1y-staw.

FOR SALE OR RENT.

A RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTMENT—For sale, that beautiful Homestead, of the late Colonel MORGAN ROBERTSON, of Pittsburgh, containing 187 acres, a large portion rich river bottom, with about 30 acres containing the best Youghigheny Coal, and some 50 acres of hill land heavily timbered, and the balance under cultivation. The improvements in part consist of a good DOUBLE BRICK HOUSE, a large Barn and Out Houses, a never-failing Well, an Orchard of the best varieties of Fruit Trees, now in bearing; also, two Tenant Houses, &c. This Farm lies upon the bank of the Monongahela River, fourteen miles from Pittsburgh, and offers peculiar facilities for the Mining, loading and shipping of Coal, for building all kinds of Water Craft, for the most convenient and profitable disposition of the Timber and other products of the land. The whole is offered for sale on most advantageous terms.
For particulars appy to
JOSEPH DILWORTH, Esq.,
Of Dilworth, Porter & Co., or
THOS. J. KEENAN, Esq.,
my19tf Attorney at Law, Pittsburgh.

BEAUTIFUL SUBURBAN LOTS FOR SALE.—A portion of the estates of JOHN HERRON, Esq., deceased, adjoining Fort Herron, has been laid out in lots of various sizes, from one-fourth to one and a half acres each, with wide streets (40 feet) and is now ready for sale. This property is in one of the most eligible locations around the city. The air being pure, free from the smoke and soot arising from the vast consumption of coal in the city, renders the location naturally healthy, and having extended views of the river and surrounding country, makes the property more desirable. Being but 2 miles from the Court House, (via Wylie street) having a good road, it can be reached in a pleasant walk of twenty-five or thirty minutes, or a drive of fifteen minutes. There is also on the property a Passenger Car Station, making it convenient and pleasant to transact business in the city. Cars passing to and from the city throughout the day. Lots will be sold singly or in numbers. The plan of lots and prices can be seen at the office of
W. C. AUGHINBAUGH,
ju5-tf Attorney, NO. 87 Diamond st., Pittsburgh.

VALUABLE MANUFACTURING PROPERTY FOR SALE.—A manufacturing property situate in Pitt Township, adjoining the city line, opposite the Copper Works, Ninth Ward, having a river front of 240 feet by 240 feet on Taylor street, on which there is a substantial three story brick building, 40 by 100 feet, Engine House and sheds, all in good condition. This is one of the best locations on the river for manufacturing purposes, and will be disposed of upon very liberal terms. Apply at the Real Estate and Insurance office of PUBLIC SALE OF STOCK.—Notice to Stockholders of Allegheny and Butler Plank Road Company, and others interested:

WHEREAS, in pursuance of acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved April 27th, 1852, and March 22d, 1860, the entire stock of the Allegheny and Butler Plank Road Company was pledged and hypothecated for the payment of certain certificates of loan issued by authority of said acts of Assembly, which certificates fell due on the first day of May last, and yet remain unpaid.
Now this is to notify all persons that the entire stock of the said Allegheny and Butler Plank Road Company, except such as may be relieved by payment of its proper proportion of said debt before the day of sale, will be exposed to sale by public outcry at the house of Frederick Garrow, in Bakerstown, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, on SATURDAY, 8TH DAY OF JULY NEXT,
at eleven o'clock, A. M., of said day. The stock will be offered in lots to suit bidders, and purchasers will be entitled to certificates of transfer, vesting in them the same rights and franchises as were vested in the holders of such stock immediately before such sale.
Any stockholder may relieve his stock from sale by paying to James Breslin, Treasurer, before the day of sale, one dollar and thirty cents on each share of stock owned. The capital stock of the company is 3,200 shares of $25 each. The debt is $4,150, which includes all the liabilities of the company.

VALUABLE IRON PROPERTY FOR SALE.

TENNESSEE
ROLLING WORKS.

We will offer for sale on the 2d DAY OF OCTOBER, 1865, on the premises, the valuable Iron Property known as the Tennessee Rolling Works,
with 6440 acres of Land, about 600 acres good Farming Land cleared and under fence, situated on the Cumberland River, fifty miles above the mouth, in Lyon county, Kentucky, embracing a large and complete Rolling Mill, a Forge with twenty Nobbling Fires, a Machine Shop containing Lathes, Boring and Planing Machines, with a Boiler and Engine to run separate from Mill, with a Grist Mill attached, a large Warehouse, Dry Goods Store, Brick Office, and a large number of Dwellings for workmen. Also about Forty Thousand Bushels of Stone Coal, and Sixty Thousand Bushels of Charcoal.
The above Iron Works have been in successful operation for a number of years, and the reputation of the Iron fully established, with a capacity for making Five or Six Thousand Tons of superior Charcoal Iron yearly—unsurpassed by any manufactory in the United States. The facilities for obtaining Pig Iron are superior to any establishment in the West, there being three Charcoal Furnaces within one to three miles of the Mill, capable of producing Seven or Eight Thousand Tons of Pig Iron yearly.
The facilities for obtaining cheap supplies of Corn, Pork and other articles, are unsurpassed.
Shipments of Iron can be made to the mouth of Cumberland River all seasons of the year.
TERMS OF SALE.
The Rolling Mill, Forge and Lands thereto attached, Tools, embracing Mill, Forge and Blacksmith Tools, and Weighing Scales, are to be sold on a credit of one, two and three and four years from date, with approved security, and lien retained until the purchase money is paid.
It is understood that the purchaser of the mill, lands and fixtures is to take the wrought iron and cast iron scraps, stone coal, charcoal, farming tools, carpenter tools, corn, hay, mules, cattle, hogs, iron safe and fixtures in office, wagons, carts, medicines, etc., and pay cash at a fair valuation, two disinterested men to fix said valuation; in case they do not agree, to call in a third man.
The object of the sale is to close up said business agreeably to the articles of co-partnership.
Capitalists wishing to invest in a profitable iron property will do well to examine the same, when competent men will be ready at all times to show the property, and give particulars until day of sale.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—Mr. George Randles, a citizen of Conemaugh Township, Indiana county, died on the 11th inst., at the advanced age of one hundred and two years. For a number of years previous to his death he was in charge of the Overseers of the Poor of Conemaugh Township, but for the last seven years was confined to his bed.

LEFT FOR EUROPE.—Rev. Herrick Johnson, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church of this city, sailed for Europe on Wednesday, in the Cunard steamer, from Boston, accompanied by his wife. Previous to leaving this city some members of his congregation presented him with $2,700, in order to defray the expenses of his tour.

DEATH OF PENNSYLVANIA SOLDIERS.—The following Pennsylvania soldiers died in Washington City on Monday and Tuesday last: Merrit Smith, Company F, Ninety-eighth Regiment; Dennis McCarthy, E, Ninety-first; James Mulhollan, G, Forty-sixth; J. S. Brooks, C, One Hundred and Second; John Benedict, F, Sixty-first; Samuel A. Myers, K, Eighty-seventh; Carl Nelson, E, Ninety-first; William Dickey, no regiment given; William Hendrickson, I, One Hundred and Second.

WESTERN UNIVERSITY.—The first annual address before the Irving and Philomathean Literary Associations of the Western University, was delivered last night in Mozart Hall, by Rev. S. G. Fuller, Rector of St. Peter's Church. The subject of the address was "Religious Truth," which received an earnest and scholarly discussion and produced a favorable impression. To-morrow evening the first annual contest between those societies will take place in Mozart Hall. Exercises to begin at eight o'clock.

SAD CASE OF DROWNING.—Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, an interesting little boy, aged four years, named Abraham Lincoln Updegraff, was drowned by falling into a well, on the premises of a family in Pitt township, where the child's mother, Mrs. Eliza Updegraff, a widow, was temporarily residing. An older boy was engaged in drawing water from the well, when the unfortunate child reached over and caught hold of the rope, and was thus drawn up and thrown into the well. The body was speedily recovered, and the Coroner summoned. The verdict of the inquest was death from accidental drowning.

DEAD BODY FOUND.—An Ohio correspondent sends the following:—On the evening of the 1sth instant, a man about five feet eight inches high, sandy hair and whiskers, heavy set, and supposed to be about forty-five years of age, was found lying dead in the road near the residence of Levi Townsend, in Short Creek township, Harrison county, Ohio. From papers found on the body, it is supposed that his name is Ferdinand Shaffer, and that he had lived in Pittsburgh, Pa.

If this notice should be seen by any of his friends, they can learn all the particulars of the case by addressing M. H. Toland, Harrisville, Harrison county, Ohio.

A SWINDLING TICKET-AGENT.—Samuel A. Lewis, a Chicago railroad ticket-agent, attempted recently to swindle the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company out of $3,500. Lewis did not settle his account with the company for tickets for the month of May, and asked for time to do so. Mr. Cleland, the General Passenger-Agent, suspecting someting wrong, kept a watch on Mr. Lewis, who suddenly left for St. Louis. He was followed, brought back, and, after being sent to prison, he was finally released, a few days ago, on payment of $2,000 and his brother giving bonds for the remaining $1,500. Lewis is also in debt to other roads.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—On Saturday morning last, during a violent storm, Alexander Steel, while descending the Allegheny river, on an oil flat, was struck by lightning, about seven miles below Franklin, and instantly killed. Mr. Steel was standing on the tow post, when the lightning descended the guy rod, striking him and tearing the clothing completely off his person. The deceased resided at Miller's Eddy, Armstrong county, was thirty-two years of age, and leaves a wife and six children.

A singular freak of lightning occurred in the borough of Prospect, Cambria county, a few evenings ago. It entered the house of Mr. John Boyle, knocked the clock off the mantel, and shattered three of the posts supporting a bed on which a child was sleeping, but did no further damage.

TRUNK STOLEN FROM THE CARS.—We call the attention of the police and all honest people to the card of Mr. L. M. Jones, in another column. Mr. Jones had a small trunk stolen from him Wednesday night, while a passenger on the Erie Express train, on the Pennsylvania railroad. He had it on the seat with him, and having occasion to leave his seat for a drink of water, it was stolen from him between East Liberty and Pittsburgh. He has his suspicions of the baggage checkers or bummers who are on the trains at East Liberty, several of them, he says, he saw pass through the car and hang around at different times. We think he is mistaken in his suspicions of the baggage checker, as there is only one person engaged in that capacity, and he has always enjoyed a good reputation. Some thief who came through on the train doubtless relieved him of the trunk.

Death in the Cars.

On Wednesday as an eastern-bound freight train on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad was at or near Sewickleyville, a Paymaster in the army, named Major John H. Kenzie, residing in Chicago, and about fifty years of age, complained of feeling sick, and requested a fellow passenger to go into an adjoining car and request a well known physician to call upon him, but upon the physician's arrival the patient was dead. The cause of his death is supposed to have been disease of the heart. The Major had been unwell for some weeks, and at the time of his death was on his way to Cresson, with his family, to spend the summer months. The body was brought to this city, and taken to the undertaking establishment of Messrs. Fauman & Samson, were it was embalmed. Yesterday morning the distressed family left for Chicago with the body of the Major, where it will be interred.

Arrival of Thompson's Batte y.

Yesterday afternoon, about half-past three o'clock, Thompson's Independent Battery, composed of men from this city and vicinity, arrived at the railroad depot, and was escorted to City Hall, where dinner had been prepared for them. The battery was organized in this city in September, 1861, by Captain James Thompson, its present commander, and has taken part in nearly all the battles in which the Army of the Potomac has been engaged, from Gen. Pope's campaign to the movement of Lieut. Gen. Grant, when it was sent to Washington City to refit, and has since that time been serving in the defenses of the National Capital. The battery is composed of one hundred and twenty-seven men, all of whom are re-enlisted veterans. Capt. Thompson is a tried soldier, having spent sixteen years in the army, principally in the artillery service. The battery will be mustered out and paid off at Camp Reynolds to-day or to-morrow.

A Villainous Transaction.

On Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, some villain entered a field of Mr. David Ewart, jr., of Marshall township, in this county, and cut a valuable mare belonging to Mr. Ewart, on the neck and hips with a large knife, injuring it so severely that death ensued yesterday morning. Suspicion attaches to George Boyce, a resident of the township, as being the perpetrator of this brutal and cowardly outrage, and yesterday afternoon Mr. Ewart appeared before Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny, and entered a complaint against him, when a warrant was issued for his arrest. Mr. Ewart states that some time since, Boyce quarrelled with his (Mr. Ewart's) father, and that the act was committed in a spirit of revenge. Officers have been dispatched in search of Boyce, and it is probable that he has been apprehended. This malicious act has created considerable excitement among the farmers of Marshall township, and if the evidence against Boyce is conclusive, he will be prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the law.

Body Found in the Allegheny—Coroner's Inquest.

Yesterday morning, the body of an unknown man was discovered floating down the Allegheny river, above the Railroad Bridge. Several workmen at the depot procured a skiff and brought the body to shore. The deceased was about forty-five years of age, and, from appearances, had been in the water for about two weeks. He was about five feet six inches in height, gray hair, and had one large tooth in his upper jaw in front; had on a black frock coat, lined with flannel; black cloth pants, shoes on his feet, brown plush vest, with white shirt and drawers. A leather belt was around his waist, but no effects were found upon his person by which to identify him. In one of his pockets a portmonnaie was found, which contained a slip of paper with the following printed on it:

"Dolorous Mysteries—First mystery: The Sufferings of Jesus in the Garden. Fruit of this Mystery—Contrition."

Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body, and as there were no marks on his person to justify the suspicion that violence had been used, the jury rendered a verdict of "found drowned."

Court Proceedings.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judges Stowe and Brown.

This court convened at nine o'clock yesterday morning, when District Attorney Kirkpatrick announced that he was ready to proceed with the case of John McGrogin, charged with being an accessory after the fact to the recent murder at Saw Mill Run, of which Michael Turley was principal, the lottery cases, and the case against Patrick Williams, indicted for keeping a gambling house. The court declined to try the case of McGrogin, on the ground that there was not a legal court present, and that however desirous it might be to dispose of the case, it could not be done. The case was accordingly continued until the October term. In the lottery cases, additional affidavits were filed, and in addition thereto, the counsel claimed that they were all entitled—as also in the gambling house cases—to a selection of triers from a full panel; that there were not present five jurors duly selected according to law.

In this last view the Court concurred, and spoke at length of the manner in which cases were disposed of by jurors who were gathered up as best could be done—that it must be stopped—that the proper selection of a jury was one of the most important elements in the proper and honest administration of justice, and that the Court, where the case was pressed by counsel, did not feel at liberty to compel any defendants, in cases of importance, to go to trial without the privilege of selecting triers from the body of the county. The Court commented at considerable length upon this subject and concluded by directing the lottery cases, and the gambling case against Williams, to go over until the next term, on a renewal of their recognizances by the defendants, with good bail in the same amount as before.

Mary Briar, of the Third ward, plead guilty to illegal liquor selling, and was fined $10 and costs.

Catharine Cosgrove, of the same ward, plead guilty to a similar offense and received a like sentence.

Elizabeth Nesbit, of Temperanceville, charged with selling liquor without license, gave bail to answer at the next term of court.

There being no other cases to be disposed of in which the Commonwealth was ready, the jury was discharged and the term closed.

Commencement of the Pittsburgh High School.

The commencement exercises of the Pittsburgh High School were held last evening in Lafayette Hall. The parents and friends of the pupils, together with many friends of education were present, and filled the spacious Hall not a seat, even in the galleries, being unoccupied. The performances of the graduates were of the most interesting character, and bore testimony to the success of our public school system. The essays read by the young ladies were excellent, and elicited the warmest encomiums from those present. The exercises commenced with an appropriate prayer which was followed by the Oration—The Lessons of Science, Valedictory Address. Edward W. Demmler.

At the conclusion of the valedictory address, Prof. Philotus Dean, the Principal of the institution, made a few neat and complimentary remarks, and distributed the diplomas to the ten graduates, after which the assemblage was dismissed. An excellent brass band was in attendance and enlivened the exercises with music. Although a large number of juveniles were present, the best of order prevailed, and nothing occurred to mar the pleasures of the evening.

Temperance League.

The fifth regular meeting of the National Temperance League was held in the Rev. E. E. Swift's Church, Beaver street, Allegheny, on Thursday evening, Rev. A. K. Bell presiding, and was opened with prayer by Rev. J. A. Swaney.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

The Committee on Statistics reported progress.

The Executive Committee, who were ordered to ascertain the position of the county nominees on the subject of temperance, reported progress.

The Chairman reported the proceedings of the meeting held in Dr. Howard's Church, Pittsburgh, on the 13th inst.

On motion, it was resolved to hold a meeting in the Rev. S. S. Stewart's Church, Sixth street, on next Sunday evening, the 27th inst., for the purpose of organizing a Temperance League.

Rev. J. A. Swaney was requested to address the meeting, which he did in a very able and eloquent manner.

Rev. E. E. Swift was next called on, and responded in a brief but spirited address. He was followed with remarks from Rev. Mr. Dunlap and Mr. J. B. Smith.

On motion, the Executive Committee was instructed to request Judge Sterritt to address the next meeting.

On motion, a Committee of the Whole, with Mr. Plankerton as Chairman, was appointed to request all persons of intemperate habits, whom they might come in contact with, to be present at the meetings.

The next meeting being on the Fourth of July, on motion, it was postponed until the Sunday evening following, July 11th, notice of the place to be given through the different pulpits.

After some remarks by the Chairman, Rev. A. K. Bell, the meeting adjourned.

The Freedmen.

The committee appointed by the General Assembly of the Old School Presbyterian Church at its recent session in this city, for the aid and instruction of the Freedmen of the South, met in the Lecture Room of First Presbyterian Church, yesterday, and was organized by the election of the following officers:

President—Rev. Dr. Howard.
Vice President—Rev. S. J. Wilson.
Recording Secretary—Rev. James Alexander.
Executive Committee—Wm. Bakewell, J. D. McCord, and H. M. Graydon.

A public meeting was held on Wednesday evening, when addresses were delivered by members of the committee who have taken active parts in the work; and letters from teachers read, giving many facts and details of the work going on under the auspices of the committee, all of which were of the most encouraging character. The principal fields of this agency are North and South Carolina and Tennessee, in all of which there are numerous schools, some of which number over one hundred pupils.

Fair and Festival.

A Fair and Festival, under the auspices of the East Birmingham Baptist Congregation, was commenced yesterday at Masonic Hall, and will be continued this day and evening. This congregation purchased a church building some time since, and the fair is given for the purpose of liquidating a portion of the debt which yet remains unpaid. It is to be hoped that the christian public will aid it by their presence and their means. An excellent dinner will be served up at one o'clock P. M., and supper will commence at five. Ice cream, strawberries, and the other luxuries of the season, can also be procured. Three elegant dressing gowns are on exhibition, and will be given to the three ministers receiving the highest number of votes. The voting commenced last evening, and from the competition evinced, they will realize a handsome sum.

THE 206TH REGIMENT.—The following note from Adjutant Crawford, of the 206th Pennsylvania regiment, was received yesterday:

HEADQUARTERS 206TH REG'T PA. VOLS., RICHMOND, VA., June 19, 1865.

To the Editor of the Commercial:

As many of your readers are anxious to know when this regiment will get home, I would state for their information that the regiment will be mustered out in a few days, and sent to Pittsburg for discharge and payment. We expect to arrive at Pittsburg on the 27th or 28th inst., if no delay occurs in our transportation.

JAS. L. CRAWFORD, Adjutant 206th Reg't Pa. Vols.

This regiment was organized at Camp Reynolds in September, 1864, for the one year service, and is composed of residents of the western counties of the State. It is under command of Col. Hugh J. Brady.

THE 139TH REGIMENT COMING HOME.—Mayor Lowry received a telegraphic dispatch yesterday, from Capt. Samuel Harper, announcing that this gallant regiment left Washington at nine o'clock yesterday morning. Another dispatch was received last night from Baltimore, stating that the regiment would start from that city for Harrisburg at seven o'clock last evening. It will probably arrive in this city during to-day, and the Reception Committee have made arrangements to accord it a grand reception. The regiment will be mustered out and paid off in this city.

ARRIVAL OF TROOPS.—Last evening, about eleven o'clock, ninety discharged members of the 61st Pennsylvania regiment, forty-four of the 102d, the 19th Ohio Battery and Battery F, of the 1st Michigan Light Artillery, arrived in this city, and met with a cordial welcome. The troops were marched to City Hall, and after partaking of supper, the members of the 61st and 102d retired to their homes, while the western troops proceeded on to their destination. The 61st regiment now in the field number 300 men, under command of Colonel Robert Orr, and the 102d 950 men. The detachments which arrived last night were commanded by Brevet Major James D. Duncan, of the 102d.

LARCENY.—A German named John Esberger, was taken before Mayor Lowry yesterday morning, charged with stealing a suit of clothes from Edward Stang, son of the proprietor of a boarding house, in the Diamond. Esberger was stopping at Stang's house, and getting up early put on Stang's clothes, with his own over the top. On the prisoner was found $41 in specie and $50 in currency. He was committed to jail to answer at Court.

CHARGE OF ABANDONMENT.—Abraham Kimberly was held to bail yesterday, for his appearance at Court, to answer a charge of abandonment, preferred by his wife, Magdalena Kimberly. Kimberly deserted his wife some time ago, and has been living with another woman, hence his arrest.

POSTPONED UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.—The meeting of the Union State Central Committee, called for the 19th of July, at Harrisburg, has been postponed by Hon. Simon Cameron, chairman, until further notice. The Executive Committee, however, is requested to meet at the Lochiel House, in Harrisburg, on that day.

MARTIN BRAWDY PARDONED.—We learn that a letter was received in the city yesterday, stating that Governor Curtin has pardoned Martin Brawdy, Jr., the young man convicted during the past winter of murder in the second degree, in shooting James Fagan, and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of ten years.

MASONIC SUPPER.—The Masonic fraternity of Fayette county will have a grand supper at the Clinton House, Uniontown, on Saturday evening. Members of the order in Fayette and adjoining counties are expected to be present.

DID NOT PURCHASE.—Mr. Jones, of Anderson street, Allegheny, requests us to state that he did not purchase the stolen copper pipe which was taken to his establishment on Wednesday afternoon. The person who offered it for sale has not yet been arrested.

PERSONAL.—Captain Foster Alward and Lieutenant M. W. Lewis, both of the 102d Regiment, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon.

LATE PAPERS.—We are indebted to Mr. J. S. Cupples messenger, for late Wheeling papers.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

THURSDAY, June 22—M. M.

Heavy orders from this city for the stock of the United States Petroleum Company, of New York, were filled to-day at prices varying from $28 50 to $28 75 and some holders who had purchased some time ago at low rates, realized later in the day at $29 00, thus making a very handsome profit.

This company bids fair to rival the Columbia in its success, and many now openly prefer it, although still below the former in price.

The news telegraphed from Pit Hole City yesterday evening, of a new flowing well, is confirmed to-day, with a decided increase of product. This makes now three flowing wells on the property of this company, and many more near the proper depth. So far every well has been successful, and it is said by those who are familiar with the property and location of the wells, that there is good reason to believe that all of them will find oil. The Pit Hole region is a virgin territory, and not as yet injured by numerous holes as is older territory.

Other companies having property in Pit Hole sympathize with the advance of United States, and are inquired after, and purchased at present low rates by parties who hope to realize from the success that is so certain in the development.

According to some folks, we were to have an awful time in this country immediately or shortly after the war closed. Industry was to be completely paralyzed; monetary affairs, public and private, were to be all deranged; hundreds of thousands of people were to be destitute of employment; and bankruptcy, starvation and ruin were to be universal.

It is nearly three months since Richmond fell and Lee surrendered; and yet we see no sign of this awful state of affairs yet. On the contrary, all our industries are gradually and happily adapting themselves to the new and better times in which we live; business is on an excellent basis, and is greatly enlarging itself by the return of public confidence and the opening of the South; our financial affairs are sound and strong; our disbanded soldiers are everywhere returning to their farms, workshops, and former occupations; and the general prosperity of the people is marvellous.

Thus are the soothsayers always disappointed. Having predicted defeat during the war, ruin by the war, and universal disaster after the war—and having been disappointed in each case—they had better now give up croaking, and confess the danger of indulging in such a vice in this great country.

—The present downward turn in the railway speculation, like most of its predecessors, says the New York Times is productive of all sorts of rumors as to what the roads will or will not do in the way of Dividends. Some of our good neighbors join the street in this sort of croaking, and seem more solicitous than consistent and generous, to transfer the Erie property over to the non-divided list, in advance of the usual half-yearly period for determining the question. We said the same story last Winter, before the January Dividend. The New York Central and Cleveland and Pittsburgh are also talked of as giving their summer dividend the go-by. But we apprehend this is all a mistake. It is certainly so in reference to the New York Central, which has never yet failed to pay a dividend in August or February, and is not likely to fail with its present realizations and prospects of business. And we know of no reason to doubt the Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

—Confederate bonds show no signs of improvement abroad. The English press is grumbling over the fact that the rebel loan has already entailed upon the nation a loss of ten millions dollars. Seeking for a scapegoat, they accuse Russell of having led them into Confederate securities, by the constant assertions that the Government of the South had duly constituted itself, and that a restoration of the Union by force of arms could never be imagined.

—The Iron and Steel Association, at their recent meeting in Chicago, adopted a resolution in favor of the use of the ton of 2,000 pounds in all transactions. The discussion upon the subject showed that through the action of the internal revenue laws and the regulations of many railroad companies, 2,000 pounds is in large use throughout the country, that many iron workers now employ no other ton in their accounts.

—The Controller of the Currency has decided that no certificate authorizing the commencement of business should be issued to any bank while its State circulation exceeded the amount allowed by law for a National bank of the same capital. This decision does not prevent banks from perfecting their conversion by filing papers and depositing bonds; but certificates of authority will not be sent to them until the circulation is brought within the proper limit.

—We notice the following new counterfeits:

National Banks—5's, imitations, well executed, and of a dangerous character, are reported in circulation.

Coupons—Counterfeit coupons, dated March 1st, for $12 50, in the similitude of 10-40 five per cent. United States $500 bonds, have been offered at different United States depositaries.

7 30 Bonds—Some of these are in circulation with the coupons cut off, and are offered as currency. Without coupons, they are of no value until mature. Refuse all such.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, PITTSBURGH, Thursday, June 22, 1865.

BUSINESS remains inactive, the demand for the leading articles being limited. The season has set in early. The weather was warm, with occasional showers. The receipt of produce were liberal, whilst the demand has fallen off. The sales were confined to small parcels, to meet the wants of the home market. As regards prices, they continue irregular, there being no fixed quotations. The landing exhibited a moderate amount of activity, freights for most ports being plenty. The Silver Cloud No. 2 left for Cincinnati at an early hour, with all the freight she could manage, and a good number of passengers. The Empire City is announced for Cairo and St. Louis this day. The Pilgrim has been chartered by J. C. McVay for the Zanesville trade. She will leave on Saturday, at 4 P. M. Passengers and shippers can rely on this. A dispatch was received yesterday from Zanesville, making the announcement that the Emma Graham would leave to-day for Pittsburgh. This will bring her here in time to leave on her regular day. The Iron City was receiving freight for Parkersburg; she will leave to-day, at 11 A. M. The Alex. Speer and Bayard are both due from the Virginia oil regions. The Ida Rees was receiving for Cincinnati; she will depart for that port this day. The steamer Centralia has extended her cabin and mounted a new texas, which adds very materially to her general appearance. She is one of the best boats of her class afloat. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

ASHES—The market was dull, without any material change in figures. Prices have a downward tendency. The last sale of Pearls we notice was at 8½. A large parcel would not command this figure.

FLOUR—The market remains inactive. Beyond a few sales for local purposes, there was nothing done. The receipts, although not large, were in excess of the demand. Holders, however, take matters coolly; they are not disposed to find fault. They can wait until the good time comes. The demand for export has been limited—the Eastern markets being dull. The following are the current rates: Extra Fair—sales of 140 bbls. in lots, at $7 50, 7 75, 8 00@8 25; the latter figures for favored brands. Country flour sold at lower prices.

BUTTER—The market remains inactive. The warm weather having put a check on the demand, the sales were few and far between. Prime roll would bring 18@20c; packed, 14@16c ℔ lb.

LEAD—The market was inactive. Buyers take hold sparingly. We note small sales of pig at 9c.

CHEESE—The market contains a fair supply of new cheese. Firmer prices have been well maintained. Sales of 50 bbls W. R. at 16@18c; 25 do of Hamburgh at 18½@20c. The receipts are increasing.

POTATOES—The season for old crop is drawing to a close; the market being bare of a strictly prime article. New crop is being offered in our markets. Sales of peach blows to the extent of 75 bbls at $3 25 ℔ bbl. Reds—Sales of 50 bushels at 75c.

EGGS—Were scarce. The demand being in advance of the supply, hence, previous prices were fully maintained. Sales of 7 barrels at 24@25c per dozen.

DRIED FRUIT—The market contains an abundant supply, and holders found considerable difficulty in effecting sales; Apples, 6½@7½c; Peaches, 28@32c as per quality.

GROCERIES—We hear nothing new to note in regard to this article. The demand being limited, sales were of a similar description. The supply in the market is ample for present wants, and as prices were unchanged, we omit them. The eastern markets are beginning to exhibit more firmness.

LIME—The market quiet; sales of 75 bbls at $2 20@2 25.

OATS—Were in fair demand. Among the sales were 350 bush at 62c from store; 100 do at 63c, and 1 car load on track at 60c.

BRAN—Sales of 5 tons at $18 00 per ton.

HAY—The receipts have fallen off. Sales of 9 loads at the scales at $15@20 per ton.

WHEAT—Market dull. A sale of 100 bushels of red was reported from wagon at $1 35 per bush.

PITTSBURG DRUG MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, Friday, June 23, 1865.

We notice a steady demand for goods at fair prices. We annex the ruling prices for a few of the more important articles:

Citric Acid, $1 10@1 15 ℔ lb; Balsam Copaiba, $1 15@1 18; Blue Mass, 70; Refined Borax, 38@39; Brimstone, 6½@7½; Flowers of Sulphur, 8½@9; Refined Camphor, $1 10@1 15; American Calomel, $1 40@1 45; Corrosive Sublimate, $1 30@1 35; Cream Tartar, pure, 60; Dovers Powder, $3 20; Iodine, $6 75@7 00; Lemon Syrup, $1 25@4 50 ℔ doz; Morphia, $7 90@8 00 ℔ oz; Opium, $9 50@75 ℔ lb; Castor Oil $3 50@3 75 ℔ gal. Lard and Linseed Oils are firmer, with a slight advance within a day or two; Cincinnati No. 1 Lard Oil is held at $1 70, and Linseed Oil at $1 10@1 12.

Quinine is easier, with but a small demand, at $2 50 ℔ oz. Ipecac, $7 00 ℔ lb. Jalap, $3 70. Rhubarb, E. I. $4 00. Yellow Rosin, $18 00 ℔ bbl of 280 lbs. Spirits Turpentine, $2 10@2 20 ℔ gall.

Alum, 5½ to 6c ℔ lb. Blue Vitriol, 17½ to 19c. Extract Logwood, 17 to 18c. Chipped Logwood, 3 to 4c. Madder, 17 to 18c. Indigo Manilla and Spanish Float, $1 40 to 1 70. Bengal Indigo, $2 50 to 3 00.

White Lead is very scarce, and the demand far in excess of the ability to supply. Some of our manufacturers are running their works day and night in order to fill the orders that have accumulated on their hands. We quote pure at 15 to 16c, and fancy brands from 7 to 13c. When put up in tin buckets, manufacturers charge from ½ to 1c ℔ lb additional.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, PITTSBURGH, Friday, June 23, 1865.

Business in the oil way was pretty brisk and buyers took hold freely, particularly of refined, for future delivery. The sales of the latter were liberal, and former prices were maintained. On the Allegheny landing trade was moderately active—a large number of empty barrels having been shipped during the present week. Freights to the oil regions continue plenty at fair prices. The receipts were limited, boating oil in low water being a slow process. Our latest from the wells exhibit no change in prices; holders ask one price, buyers offer another, hence one or the other will have to give way before large sales can be effected. The nominal rates at the various locations were as follows: Pit Hole, at U. S. Wells, $3 75 to $4 was the ruling figure; Cherry Run, $5 to $5 25; on Story Farm, $5 25 to $5 50; at the mouth $5 75 to $6. The rumors of new wells and large yields come in regular—we can afford to wait until facts can be obtained, when our readers shall be advised. In Benzole there was nothing done worthy of special notice. Buyers appear to be holding back for lower prices. The nominal rates were 20 and 40c, for bonded and free. Tar and Residuum was firm but not active, holders were demanding $8 40 to $8 50 ℔ bbl.

REFINED OILS.—There was a large inquiry yesterday for oil for future delivery, principally for the Eastern market. Buyers were numerous. The sales show some pretty heavy transactions in bonded, whilst free was not fancied among the operators. We note the following, viz: 500 bbls bonded, August delivery here, at 49c; 500 bbls bonded, delivered in Philadelphia, in August, at 56c; 1,000 bbls bonded, delivered in Philadelphia in September, at 56c; 500 bbls bonded, delivered in Philadelphia in October, at 57c; 300 bbls bonded, delivered in Philadelphia immediately, at 53c; 500 bbls bonded on the following conditions: the purchaser to notify the Pittsburg merchans in the first of the month, if in August at 54c, September, 55, October 56c, buyer's option; 300 bbls, delivered in Philadelphia, at 52c; 500 bbls, October delivery, quyer's option, at 55c, all bonded and free; Sales of 100 bbls free, in board cars at 65c.

CRUDE OIL—The demand was fair, with the following transactions: 1,000 bbls bulk, for July delivery 21½c, to be under 44 gravity; 200 bbls to arrive, 21½c packages returned; 240 bbls do, 26½c, packages included; 150 bbls at 21½, bbls returned; 500 bbls at 32½c, delivered in Philadelphia; 50 bbls, 27c, bbls included.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Finance and Trade.

Special to Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 22.

STOCKS.

The stock market continues dull. The late decline in gold has checked the disposition of outsiders to come into market, and brokers again have business entirely to themselves. In Railroad speculation the principal feature was the purchase of about 9,500 shares of Cleveland and Pittsburgh by the bulls, which had the effect of putting up the price. The feeling in the market is generally stronger, almost everything being a fraction higher, but transactions are very limited. Governments firm but quiet. There was some activity in them at the morning board, but it did not last long. State bonds were quiet and without any material change. Railway mortgages and bank shares strong but inactive.

GOLD MARKET

has been quite firm during the day, with the bulk of business at about 142½ cash. Gold continues scarce, and the large short interest tends to sustain prices. Money is very abundant at low rates. Foreign Exchange is extremely dull.

PETROLEUM STOCKS

are active to-day, and United States went up to $29, on report of another well being struck on their property. Other Pit Hole companies were in sympathy with the United States. Cherry Run, 30; Excelsior, 30; Buchanan Farm, 85; Oceanic, 167; Fulton, 80; Pit Hole Creek, 10; Webster, 1 95; Germania, 40; Tack, 55; Phillips, 2 00; Oil Creek, 5 50; Rynd Farm, 180; Tack, 55.

PETROLEUM

is in improved demand, and prices are firmer. We quote at 33a34½c for crude; 53a55c for refined in bond, and 71a73 for do free.

There have been some new developments to-day in defalcation of Smith J. Eastman. The more the case is sifted the worse it looks. The loss will probably reach near one million of dollars. Many prominent flour and provision houses are sufferers.

EVENING BOARD.

Gold 141⅝; New York Central, 92½; Erie, 75; Hudson, 108¾; Reading, 93⅝; Michigan Southern, 62⅝; Illinois Central, 122½; Pittsburg, 67⅞; Rock Island, 98½; Northwestern preferred, 53⅝; Fort Wayne, 95¼; Canton, 37½; Cumberland, 41; Quicksilver, 51; Mariposa, 12½; Gold firm; stocks not active.

New York Money and Stock Market.

NEW YORK, June 22.

Money easy at 4a6 ℔ cent. Sterling exchange firmer at 109a110. Gold without decided change—opening at 142½, advancing to 142⅝, declining to 141⅝, and closing at 141⅝. Government stocks without material change. Stocks dull; Rock Island, 98; Cleveland and Pittsburg, 67⅞; Chicago and Northwestern preferred, 53⅝; Michigan Central, 102½; Michigan Southern, 62⅝; Missouri 6's, 73; Ohio and Mississippi certificates, 24; Mariposa, 12½; New York Central, 92½; Reading, 93⅝; Illinois Central scrip, 122; Erie, 74¾; Treasury 7 30s, 99⅞; United States 10-40 coupons, 96⅝; United States 5-20 coupons, 103½; United States 6's 81 coupons, 110.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, June 22.

Cotton dull; 46c for middling. Flour opened 5c better and closed dull with the improvement lost; $6 10a6 25 for export State, $6 75a6 90 for export round hoop Ohio, and $6 95a8 30 for trade brands. Whisky quiet at $2 02. Wheat opened 1c better with a fair export demand, but closed dull with the improvement lost, owing to the advance in freights; $1 30a1 39 for Chicago spring; $1 42a$1 44 for amber Michigan; $1 65a1 70 for winter red Western, and $2 00 for white Michigan. Rye dull. Corn 1c better; 85a89 for mixed Western, the latter price having being paid for kiln dried; 75a85c for unsound, and 88c for white western, and firmer; 70a72c for western, closing at the latter price. Wool dull. Petroleum quiet at 34½ for crude, 52½a3 for refined in bond; 71a72 do free. Rice dull. Coffee quiet. Sugar quiet; Cuba Muscavado, at 11½. Molasses dull. New York Grocery Market.

From the Shipping List, June 21.

Coffee—There is some little revival of demand for Rio, but we again reduce our gold quotations half a cent per lb. The market generally remains very dull. The sales are 4200 bags Rio, per Martha, 593 Cape, 1014 St. Domingo, here, and 600 Jacmel, in Boston, to come here, on private terms; and 500 Maracaibo, part 21½ to 22½c gold. The stock of Rio at the Ports as made up by Wm. Scott & Sons, is 40,194 bags, viz., 38,194 bags here, and 2000 in Baltimore.

Tea—The business continues pretty large. The sales are 7,888 hf. chests Green, part from second hands, a portion in English order, 9,500 Oolong, 2,000 Souchong, and 1200 Japan, showing no particular change in prices.

Sugar—The business in raw has materially fallen off since our last, and with the decline in gold prices are ¼a⅜ of a cent lower, the market closing irregular and unsettled, our revised quotations being nominal. Refined has continued in moderate request, prices favoring buyers; we quote Stuart's loaf, 19½c; crushed and ground, 19½c; white A., 18¼c; and yellow C., 17½c; and other manufacturers, hard, 19½c; soft white, 17¾a18½c; and yellow, 15½a16½c. The sales of raw are 1,424 hhds Cuba at 10½a12½c; 586 hhds Porto Rico, 12½a14½c; 19 hhds Melado, 7½a7½c; and 1,316 bxs Havana, 11½a12½c, 4 mos. The stock yesterday was about 56,000 hhds, 34,000 bxs, 73,000 bags sugar, and 1,950 hhds Melado.

Molasses—The market has been dull since our last, the better qualities being in much demand, and these are held for extreme prices. The lower grades are inactive, but prices are supported, the market closing firm. The sales include 166 hhds Porto Rico at 52½a55cents for common and 60a67c for prime; two cargoes Cuba Muscavado, together 455 hhds and 39 tcs, 42½a43½; 269 hhds and 3 tcs. do, in lots, 37a50c; 177 hhds and 10 tcs. Clayed Cuba, 35c; and 45 hhds Barbadoes, 57c, at 4 months. By auction, 100 hhds, and 20 tcs. Porto Rico sold at 56½a67½c, cash.

New York Petroleum Market.

[From the Shipping List, June 21.]

Crude petroleum has been in fair request, at about previous quotations, though rather feebly supported yesterday, with the lower rates for gold—the sales are 6,000 bbls on the spot at 34½a35c, closing at 34½a35½c; 5,500 do for July, 34½c S. O. and 35c B. O.; 3,500 do for August, 35a35½c S. O., and 35½a36c B. O.; 500 do for September, 35½c S. O., and 2,000 do delivered at Titusville in 30 days, S. O., $7 ℔ bbl, packages to be returned. Refined improved somewhat, but was barely supported yesterday—the offerings, however, are light, and holders are firm—the sales are 4,500 bbls bonded at 49a51c for straw to light straw, 51a52½c for light straw to white, 53c for standard white, 56c for 1,000 prime white ("Oleophene,") and 57c for 75 bbls water white; 500 bbls for July, 54c, B. O.; 1,000 for August, 55a57c B. O.; 1,000 for September, 56a58½c, B. O.; 1,000 for October, 57c, B. O.; 1,600 gallons in tin on the spot, 64½c; 3,400 do ("Downer's") 70c; 800 bbls free, 70a71c for Light Straw, 71½a72c for Light Straw to White, and 73c for White; and 3,000 gallons do in tin ("Downer's") at 90c. Naptha is quiet, but steady; sales of 150 bbls 65° gravity, at 26½a27c in bond. 80 bbls Residuum sold at $10 per bbl. We have a list before us, (obtained from personal observation, by a gentleman of this city,) of the daily yield of each and all wells in Pennsylvania, which foots up 6,375 bbls.

Weekly Review of the Pig Iron and Bloom Market.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, Saturday, June 22, 1864.

Business in the Pig Iron Market was not very active. It appears to be as difficult to obtain the transactions as to effect sales, as the principle operations were made on terms not made public. All persons versed in commercial matters, understand those terms about as correct as the parties who endeavor to withhold the figures. Under the circumstances we can furnish no more than we obtain. The market was dull for Blooms and Pig Iron, and prices were lower.

DECKER'S PIANOS.

MESSRS. DECKER BROTHERS—GENTLEMEN—In your pianos (square) I find a strength and sonorousness of tone, together with a richness, brilliancy and delicacy, that until now have been characteristic features only of the very best grands. I have found an instrument so perfectly well adapted for the just rendering of the works of the great writers for the piano forte, as is the one now in my possession, manufactured by Decker Brothers.

Yours, &c., E. HEIMBUERGER, Professor of the Piano-Forte.

ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET.

ALLEGHENY CITY, June 22, 1865.

The Allegheny market during the week was well supplied. The market closed dull at a decline from last week's prices; in fact, some of the large operators can count their losses by thousands. Those that forwarded East have done no better. The market seemed weak; buyers held back. They did not seem to have any faith in present rates. The decline in cattle ranged ¾@1¼c per lb. Drovers were not jolly. This week it was buyers' turn this time, and they were disposed to make the most of it. Even the city butchers were disposed to hold back for lower figures. The season for extravagant prices is passing away. The great cattle dealer, "Uncle Sam," will soon be out of the market, then prices will have to come down to what they ought to be.

SHEEP—The market was moderately active. A number of parcels changed hands, principally to butchers. The current rates were 4½@5½c per lb. The market closed heavy, with a few hundred head left over.

HOGS—The season is fast drawing to a close. Large operators do not seem inclined to take hold, hence we have but few sales to record. The market was weak. We quote nominally at $8 50@9 25 per cwt. The principal sales were to butchers for retailing purposes.

PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL STOCK YARDS.

EAST LIBERTY, June 22, 1865.

The market during the past week was not very active. The unsettled state of the eastern money market, and the fluctuations in gold made dealers cautious. Cattle were dull, and prices lower; the supply being in excess of the demand. The market was weak. The exports East amounted to 2,480 head; pretty evenly divided between Baltimore and Philadelphia. The hog market was better sustained. The particulars will be found below. Sheep—The sales were liberal; prices gave way and buyers took hold freely.

The exports per Central Railroad for the past week were as follows:

	Cattle	Hogs	Sheep	Horses
To Baltimore	1,210	2,041	1,500	654
To Philadelphia	1,010	1,905	1,250	168

Silver Cloud No. 2	Marietta	Cincinnati.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight there were seven feet large in the channel and falling. The weather continues warm.

THE steamers Kenton and Hard Times are among the first packets due.

THE Steamer Silver Cloud, No. 2, left for Cincinnati, with all the freight she could manage.

THE steamer Emma Graham leaves Zanesville this morning for Pittsburgh. She will return to Pittsburgh on her regular day.

THE side-wheel passenger steamer Bayard, Captain George D. Moore, is announced for Parkersburg this day at eleven A. M. Passengers and shippers will bear this in mind.

CAPT. JAS. C. McVAY has chartered the light draught steamer Pilgrim for the Zanesville trade; she will leave on Saturday. Passengers and shippers will bear this in mind.

THE fine Steamer Ida Rees, Capt. R. Reese, leaves this day, positively for Cincinnati. This boat is one of the best of her class afloat, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

THE favorite packet Empire City, Captain Jacob Hazlep, leaves to-day for Cairo and St. Louis; she is well found in every respect, her officers are men of large experience, Captain Sharp Hemphill, who presides at the office, has no superior in his line.

Cincinnati.

Thursday's Commercial says: The river has risen eight inches during the past twenty four hours. There is five feet at rising sun, and eight feet everywhere else below to Louisville. There is five feet in the canal. The Tennessee is falling again. There is 12 feet in the Mississippi from St. Louis to Cairo.

The Onward and Minerva came in from Louisville, and were discharged from the Government service. The Onward is loading for Nashville, and the Minerva leaves for Pittsburgh this morning.

The Hard Times departed for Pittsburgh with a fair trip of people and freight.

The Amelia Poe and Yorktown are due.

The Kenton, from St. Louis, was full of people, and discharged 225 tons at Louisville, and 125 tons here. She leaves for Pittsburgh to-day.

Capt. A. C. McCallam, Sr., left for Pittsburgh in last night's train. He informs us that the Armenia, with troops from Tennessee river, passed Cairo on Monday, for New Orleans, with Captain A. C. McCullam, Jr., in command.

BOATS IN PORT.—Golden Era, St. Cloud, Alice Dean, H. M. Childs, Anglo Saxon, Ontario, Argyle, Pocahontas, Commercial, Argonaut No. 2, Golden Eagle, Kenton, Lenora No. 2, Silver Spray, Onward.

Business was dull on the wharf yesterday.

Several boats that have been in Government service arrived from Louisville yesterday, and were discharged, as will be all others arriving from that place.

The following boats are due from Parkersburg to-day, with troops for Arkansas river: Rob Roy, Miami, J. G. Blackford, Lady Pike, Wananita, Nightingale, Nannie Byers, J. R. Gilmore, Phantom, Caroline, Navigator, Poe Victor No. 3, J. D. Hinde, Urilda, Alice and J. H. Best are expected to bring the balance of the troops destined for Louisville.

St. Louis.

Wednesday's Democrat says: —The river is rising at this point. To Cairo there is ten feet of water, to Keokuk five and a half feet, on the Lower Rapids three and a half feet, and three feet below St. Paul. In the Illinois there is five feet below Peoria, and three feet above. The Missouri is bank-full. The Cumberland is again falling, with four feet on Harpeth Shoals. The Tennessee is in good order. The upper rivers are stationary, except the Missouri, which is reported falling slowly.

Business continues good on the wharf. The weather is hot, but tempered by a constant breeze.

The following is a portion of the fleet now engaged in transporting from Tennessee river to New Orleans the 14th Army corps: National, Brilliant, Citizen, Emma Floyd, N. Longworth, Emerald, Robert Moore, Guidon, Palestine, Irene, Jewess, Cora S., Anna, J. H. Baldwin, Silver Moon, Argosy, Kate Robinson, Alpha, Peytona, Clara Dunning, Sallie List, Silver Lake No. 2, Echo No. 2, Indiana. When they left Johnsonville there was six feet and a half of water in the mouth.

The Cumberland at Nashville Saturday was rising very slowly, with five feet water on the shoals, and the arrival of the John T. McCombs, Leni Leoti and Yorktown from the Upper Ohio and St. Louis. The McCombs came in from the latter port under Government charter. She brought up from Cairo 500 negro prisoners from Mobile.

The Shamrock, accompanied by the Armadillo, Lawrence, Leonora, Lillie, Majestic, Minnesota, Pringle and Prairie Rose, has been on a military pleasure excursion to Dixie, the land of swamps and musquitoes. The Shamrock was chosen by Captain S. A. Turner for "flag ship." The expedition sailed from St. Louis June 4th, coaled the 5th, at Cairo, and then went on rejoicing, bound for Little Rock, Arkansas, thence with troops to Red River. The programme was changed on learning of the low condition of the Arkansas, and they went up White River to Duvall's Bluff. They were ordered back to St. Louis, but the fleet, on getting back to the Mississippi, took supplies of coal, and, augmented by the addition of the Bostona and Autocrat, were ordered to Red River with cavalry.

New Orleans.

The Times, of the 15th, says:

John D. Wilbanks, we understand, is to have a boat for the Opelousas trade, one for the Attakapas trade and another for the Ouachita trade, in a few days. There are at present no packets for the two first-named trades, and but one for the latter trade, the Any One being the first boat that has left here since the war for Ouachita river. Of arrivals, they were few and far between. The Texas and Doubloon came in from Red river, with full loads of cotton, consigned to the Louisiana State river. At the sight of the above two packets, yesterday, we were forcibly reminded of the olden time when there would be found at our landing fifteen or twenty boats laden with cotton. The Doubloon and Texas were laden to the guards with the great staple. The Trent has been taken by the Government, and consequently will not leave for Red river to-day.

The Lafourche is the only boat in the Lafourche trade, and cannot begin to meet the wants of shippers. The arrivals were the Frolic, from Red River, and the Pauline Carroll, from St. Louis. Business on the levee was quite active. The Emperor got off for Cincinnati. We had the pleasure yesterday of meeting our old friend Capt. W. D. Bateman, for many years in the Red River trade. Captain Bateman is at present in command of the Nina Simmes, which will be ready for business in a day or two. Captain Sam Lawson has charge of the office of the Doubloon, and Captain John Amsden of the office of the Texas.

Little Rock.

The Gazette of the 12th says: The Rose Hambleton came in on Saturday, and the Glide No. 3 the same night, both from Memphis, with a fair freight list. We had the pleasure, the other day, of meeting with Captain Jenk Brown. Capt. Brown navigated the river for many years, and made great reputation as a steamboat commander, and it is his duty to look to it that he has another boat on the dusky waters of the Arkansas the coming season, that shall rival the speed, and become as popular as the famous Little Rock.

STRENGTH TO THE WEAK!
YOUTH TO THE AGED!!
BIOKRENE
OR LIFE REJUVENATOR.

This preparation is unequaled as a Rejuvenator and Restorer of wasted or inert functions.

The aged should be certain to make the Biokrene a household god, inasmuch as it will render them youthful in feeling and in strength, and enable them to live over again the days of their pristine joy. It not only exhilarates but strengthens, and is really an invaluable blessing, especially to those who have been reduced to a condition of servility, self abuse, misfortune, or ordinary sickness. No matter what the cause of the impotency of any human organ, this superb preparation will remove the effect at once and forever.

BIOKRENE

Cures Impotency, General Debility, Nervous Incapacity, Dyspepsia, Depression, Loss of Appetite, Low Spirits, Weakness of the Organs of Generation, Imbecility, Mental Indolence, Emaci Ennui. It has a most delightful, desirable and novel effect upon the nervous system; and all who are in any way prostrated by nervous disabilities are earnestly advised to seek a cure in this most excellent an unqualled preparation.

Persons who, by imprudence, have lost their NATURAL VIGOR, will find a speedy and permanent cure in the BIOKRENE.

The feeble, the languid, the dispairing, the old should give this valuable discovery a trial; it will be found totally different from all other articles for the same purpose.

TO FEMALES.—This preparation is invaluable in nervous weakness of all kinds, as it will restore the wasted strength with wonderful permanence.

It is also a grand tonic, and will give relief in Dyspepsia with the first dose. A brief persistence in its use will renovate the stomach to a degree of perfect health and banish Dyspepsia forever.
